THE SUN ECLIPSE.

The View of the Phenomena at Different Points—Highly Satisfactory and Interesting Observations.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

VINCENNES, Indiana, August 7.—The eclipse was seen here under the most favorable circumstances. The sky was perfectly clear. It commenced at 4:17 P. M. and was total at 5:15. The duration of the total obscuration was two minutes and thirty seconds. It ended at six o'clock twelve minutes. The corona was very brilliant, giving about as much light as an ordinary moon. Mercury, Venus and Jupiter were plainly seen, but none of the fixed stars appeared.

AT SHELBYVILLE, KY.

SHELBYVILLE, via EMINENCE, Ky., Aug. 7.—The observations here to-day were very satisfactory and in many respects gratifying. The following persons comprised the joint board of observation for Shelbyville: Prof. Jos. Winlock, of Harvard University, in charge of the observations of the phenomena, assisted by Alvin G. Clark, Prof. at Cambridge; G. W. Dean, of the Coast Survey, in charge of the observations of precision, assisted by. F. Blake, Jr., of the Coast Survey; J. A. Whipple, of Boston, assisted by Geo. Clark and J. Pendergast, had charge of photographs; Prof. Searle, of New York, devoted himself to observations of general phenomena, and during the total phase was to search for inter-mercurial planets; sub-assistant T. H. Agnew also devoted himself to observations of general phenomena, and had charge of the observatory arrangements, being assisted by R. E. Sherrad, of Louisville. The meteorological observations were made by Prof. Seymour, of Louisville, and Robert Louis, of Shelbyville. Among the amateurs present were Mr. Bowditch, of Boston, a son of the celebrated astronomer. One of the most important discoveries made by Prof. Winlock, at the spectroscope, was eleven bright lines in the spectrum of the protuberances of the sun, only five having ever heretofore been determined. He also observed a shower of meteors between the moon and the earth. The party are jubilant over their success. Photographs of the sun were taken at different times during the partial obscuration. The beautiful red flames or solar protuberances were visible to the naked eye. Bailey's beads, as well as the dark and dismal shadow of the moon sailing away through the air, were noted by a party of amateurs stationed on the top of Shelby College. The sky was perfectly clear and everything seemed to propitiate the success of observations. There were ten or twelve mounted instruments in use on the occasion, the principal one of which was the Shelby College telescope, which was handled by Prof. Winlock, assisted by Alvin G. Clark, of Cambridge, Mass This is a fine instrument, and cost $4,000; it once ranked third in the United States. Vega, Venus and Mercury were visible to the naked eye during the total phase. Mr. Searle, whose duty it was to search for inter-mercurial planets, did not succeed in finding any; reporting nothing fainter than regular near the sun.

When the sunlight commenced to become dim a large number of citizens rushed to the college grounds, the head quarters of the observation. Eight minutes before the total phase the usual phenomena of disturbance among the birds of the air and cattle occurred. Six minutes before totality a deathly ashen hue overspread the faces of all present and for awhile the firmest hearted were terrified. The scene during totality was an awful one, and when the sunlight appeared again a shout of exultation went up from the great crowd on the college grounds.

AT DES MOINES, IOWA.

DES MOINES, August 7.—An unclouded sky allowed the many observers gathered at this point to witness the solar eclipse with great distinctness, a slight haze only interfering to prevent a satisfactory search for planets supposed to exist inside the orbit of Mercury. According to Prof. G. H. Stafford's observations the first contact occurred at three o'clock forty-three minutes and four seconds: commencement of total obscuration four o'clock forty-five minutes and thirty seconds; end of totality four o'clock forty-eight minutes and twenty-two seconds; last contact five o'clock forty-five minutes and eleven seconds—these points of time being from six to twenty-two seconds later than calculated according to Washington ephemeris.

Prof. Hilgard, observing at another point, noted nearly the same difference between calculations and observations. The corona, nearly rhomboidal in form, was very distinct and extended at some points half a degree beyond the edge of the sun's disc. Rose colored protuberances appeared to the number of five or six, the greatest being on the sun's south-western quarter.

Prof. Harkness' observation of protuberances in the spectroscope shows different spectra for each. But a single band was thrown by the corona.

Prof. Eastman's observation of the thermometer showed a fall of thirteen degrees in temperature during the progress of the eclipse.

The total observation lasted two minutes fifty-two and a half seconds. Venus and Mercury were distinctly visible to the naked eye. The most interesting feature in the aspect of the sun was the protuberances or beads. The largest one, already mentioned, was semi-circular in shape, with a finger extending one-eighth part of the sun's diameter directly downward as one looked. Another right limb was shaped much like the two horns of the antelope. The greatest length of the corona was in the direction of the eliptic.

AT SPRINGFIELD, ILLS.

CHICAGO, August 7.—The eclipse at Springfield, Ills., was a startling and sublime phenomenon. The sky was perfectly clear, not a cloud being visible. Prof. Pearce, of Harvard, had charge of the observations, which were made near the city reservoir. A hundred photographs of the eclipse were taken by Mr. Black, of Boston. When the total obscuration took place the heavens and the earth presented a scene of awful sublimity A brilliant amber colored corona appeared around the sun and moon, shooting rays of light outward in all directions, while the whole horizon was illuminated with a light of the same color. The planets Mercury and Venus and a number of fixed stars were distictly visible, but no planet orbs between Mercury and the sun were discovered. A brilliant rose colored flame, or protuberance, was noticed on the western limb of the sun during the period of total obscuration. The phenomena known as "Bailey's beads" was also distinctly witnessed. The phenomena, Prof. Pearce thinks, is occasioned by refraction of light. He is also satisfied that the corona or halo obserbed at the time of the total obscuration was occasioned by the sun's atmosphere. Chas. Schott, of the coast survey, had charge of the general arrangements, and with a powerful telescope observed particularly the form of the protuberances, and made a special observation, in connection with the photographer. W. P. Montague, a graduate of Harvard College this year, was detailed to note the time by the chronometer, and during the entire eclipse, from its commencement to its final close, never for a moment allowed his eye to wander from the dial plate, thus losing sight of the eclipse in any of its phases.

During the total obscuration of the sun a silence like death rested all over the city, birds flew to their nests, fowls to their roosts, and chickens to the friendly wings of shelter. A drove of cows near the resorvoir, with heads and tails erect, and with a startled, frightened look, started for the city, and did not cease running until old Sol once more shone forth. There were many other incidents during the eclipse. Dogs were seen to gaze in wonder at the terrible appearance of the sky and remained during the total obscuration in an attitude of alarm and wonderment, but at the moment the first ray of the sun appeared expressed the joy they felt in a way that dogs only can.

The observations made by the scientific gentlemen have been all that could be desired. The photographs taken by Mr. Black have never been equalled in number or perfectness of expectation,

AT MATTOON, ILLINOIS.

The observations at this place were made by Prof. G. W. Hough, of Dudley Observatory, Albany, New York, Prof. David Murray, Rutger's College, New Brunswick, New Jersey, Prof. L. M. Easterday, Hillsboro, Illinois. Prof. John C. Hause, Waterford, New York, Lewis Swift, Marthalon county, New York, and Charles Simonds, New York city, late of Dudley Observatory. The instruments made use of were ordinary telescopes. One of them, however, was provided with means for accurately measuring the diversions of the protuberance on the sun and the corona, or surrounding halo. A chronographer was employed to note accurately the time of the phenomena. The time was obtained by telegraph communication from Dudley Observatory at Albany, N. Y. Ten minutes and fifteen seconds past four the eclipse commenced, the moon's first contact with the sun occurring when the former was nineteen degrees south of the solar equator on the west side. The thermometer, which a few moments before had risen to 102 degrees, began to fall rapidly. Gradually the darkness of twilight spread over the earth, small flies, gnats, and other heralds of night, thickly fluttered in the air, until, at eleven minutes past five, the unanimous exclamation from the eager spectators announced the visible advent of the first star, Regulus. At precisely eleven minutes seventeen seconds past five the sun's shining face was obscured and star after star appeared. The corona threw its brilliant coruscations of luminous light around the black sphere. For two minutes and thirty seconds the darkness was equal to that of a moonlight night and the temperature was forty-two degrees cooler than one hour before. The countenances of the spectators assumed a ghastly, unnatural hue, the sky was of a light purplish color, excepting near the horizon, where the aspect was of that golden radiance with which it glows after a beautiful sunset. The climax occurred, when, at the close of the totality, like a flash of silver lightning, the first ray of sunlight shot suddenly out piercing the gloom in a second, illumining the world. The eclipse ended at nine minutes and twenty-two seconds past six o'clock.

In the observations the phenomena corresponded precisely with computations previously made. Six spots were visible on the surface of the sun before the eclipse, two of which were very prominent, and the others much less so. As the eclipse progressed towards totality the form of the moon became visible. The phenomena of "Bailey's beads" were seen distinctly by all the observers, extending through an arc of at least fifty degrees. The moment the eclipse became total the flame like protuberances were seen with wonderful distinctness, one very large on the lower limb of the sun and three nearly as large on the upper limb, while at least seven or eight of them in all were visible. The one on the right hand or lower limb had somewhat the appearance of a full-rigged ship, with sails set. In its part nearest the moon were two or three jet black spots To the naked eye it seemed as though there were openings or fissures in the moon, two on the east side and one on the south-west. Just after the total eclipse, through the openings the lurid glow of the sun was distinctly visible. The corona was apparent to all observers, either with or without instruments. It was not, as generally described in books, &c., a halo of light surrounding the moon, there was distinctly seen to be five pointed prongs on the lower and two on the upper circumference of the moon. These points presented a radial appearance. The generally received theory regarding this corona, that it is the atmosphere of the sun, does not seem to be sustained by observations made at this point. It is conjectured that the corona is in some way caused by the phenomena of light passing through the atmosphere.

Although search was made no planetary bodies were observed between Mercury and the sun. During the totality phase Mercury, Venus, Regulus, Mars, Saturn and other stars were visible. The temperature in the shade at the beginning of the eclipse was seventy-seven degrees, during totality forty-five degrees, and at the end of the eclipse it had risen to seventy degrees At 3:40 in the sun, on the grass, the thermometer was at one hundred degrees. A few minutes after four o'clock it rose to one hundred and two degrees, while during the total eclipse it fell to fifty degrees, but subsequently rose to eighty degrees.

AT CHICAGO.

In Chicago the day was a beautiful one, all that could be desired by the enthusiastic star gazers. At ten minutes after four o'clock the edges of the two bodies just appeared to come in contact. The spectacle at this time was like a very bright fire emitting a black volume of smoke, only that the smoke passed off below rather than above the flame. Fifteen minutes and then it was to be observed that the black body was gradually over clouding the sun, the light from that body grew less and less powerful and a cool breeze sprung from the north. The edges of the horizon faded into distinctness, and darkness seemed to be coming up from below rather than down from above. Another half hour, and two-thirds of the face of the sun was obscured. The light now assumed a mellow cast of the peculiar hue that is prevalent just after a clear sunset on a warm July evening. From the small spot of the sun which was still left free, the light appeared to be struggling to maintain its accustomed supremacy. Five minutes more, and down in the streets it had become quite dark; many establishments lighted their gas; the pigeons and swallows that for some time had been flying here and there sought their perches preparatory to going to sleep; out of the blue and purple space above large gold stars began to shine and twinkle; the planet Venus was plainly visible to the naked eye, as were also several others of like magnitude. Everything wore the appearance of a genuine sun set, only that the light appeared to be more sickly and less rich and golden on such occasions, being more like the light that falls from a polar sun in midwinter. All that was left of the sun looked like a fairy powder horn hung on heaven's arches. A rainbow hue surrounded the darkened planet and appeared to be pushing out waves of light outwards and upwards and sideways. Just as the greatest part of the sun was covered it appeared like twilight on an autumnal evening, cold and cheerless. As the moon began to move away the flood of light rushed out again as if glad to escape from a forced imprisonment and revealed the sun as gradually as it covered it up.

AT ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 7.—The weather to day has been cool and clear, with the exception of a few flying clouds, and very favorable for observing the eclipse. The latter excited unusual attention and was watched through all its phases with great interest. The streets were full of observers with smoked and stained glass and every house had delighted gazers. At the greatest obscurity of the sun's disc the corona was distinctly visible and presented a beautiful appearance, even to the naked eye, at this point, there still being one hundredth of the sun's disc unobscured. Venus and several other stars were visible. The mercury has ranged between seventy and eighty all day, and during the eclipse there was a stiff, cool breeze. No results of scientific observations are yet at hand, therefore, the different phases of the phenomenon cannot be stated, but it began at four and terminated at six o'clock.

AT LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

LOUISVILLE, August 7—The weather to-day was perfectly clear and delightful. Thousands of spectators assembled on the streets to view the solar eclipse. The first external contact commenced at four o'clock, twenty-five minutes and twenty-five seconds; beginning of total eclipse five o'clock, twenty-five minutes and twenty-five seconds; duration of the same two minutes and fifty-six seconds; end of the eclipse six o'clock, twenty-one minutes and fifty-eight seconds. The point of the sun first obscured was about eighteen degrees north of west. During the total immersion the scene was intensely interesting. The sky was of a dark bluish tint and the surrounding objects of a copper color. Several stars were plainly visible, among them Mercury and Jupiter. When entirely hid a beautiful faint crown of light surrounded the sun, and faint streaks, like jets of flame, were seen protruding from the edge. During the totality the temperature was very cool.

AT WILMINGTON, N. C.

WILMINGTON, August 7.—The streets and house tops were crowded with people to witness the eclipse of the sun this evening. The following observations were taken from the top of the Dawson bank buildings, Washington time being the standard. The time of the greatest obscuration was at six and a quarter minutes past six; time of the beginning of the total phase five minutes past six; end of the total phase six and a half minutes past six; beginning of the eclipse penumbra five minutes past five; end of the eclipse penumbra fifty-four minutes past six. This was the grandest spectacle ever beheld. During the total obscuration the stars shone almost as bright as at night, and the fowls went to roost three-quarters of an hour earlier than usual. Business was almost suspended in the city.

AT CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, August 7.—The eclipse this afternoon attracted great attention. The housetops and elevated points were all occupied. The sky was cloudless and the wind from N. E. At the time of the greatest obscuration, about half-past five, gas was lighted even in the tower of the Fire Department, and a deep, strange shadow settled down upon the entire city. The atmosphere had a yellowish appearance and indistinct clouds were in the western horizon. Stars could be distinctly seen. The day was cool throughout and the mercury down to 70 degrees at the time of the greatest obscuration. Many persons went out on the western and southern trains to points higher.

AT NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The partial eclipse of the sun was observed by hundreds of thousands of people in this vicinity. During a portion of the time light clouds passed before the face of the sun but did not to any degree effect the sublimity of the spectacle. When the eclipse was at its height the rays of the sun presented to the naked eye a wavy appearance, like those of the aurora borealis, and the clouds in that portion of the heavens were a rich rose color. Astronomers say no protuberances of the sun were seen here.

AT SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 7.—The solar eclipse commenced in this city at the precise moment predicted by astronomers, and at three P. M. the obscuration reached the maximum.

WASHINGTON, INDIANA.

WASHINGTON, IND., August 7.—The eclipse commenced at Washington, Dover Co., Ind., at four o'clock, eighteen minutes and forty-five seconds; total obscuration at five o'clock and eighteen minutes, which lasted until five o'clock twenty minutes and thirty-five seconds; end of the eclipse, six o'clock, fourteen minutes and forty-four seconds. Meantime observations were taken with a medium size telescope by T. D. Lovett.

AT WHEELING.

WHEELING, August 7.—The weather to-day was clear and beautiful, affording a distinct view of the eclipse. About nine-tenths of the sun's disc was covered. The first dark spot was visible at 4:30 P. M. It continued to enlarge until it attained its fullness, about 5:40 P. M., when it gradually grew less, and had entirely disappeared by 6:30 P. M. The entire population were on the streets with smoked and colored glasses viewing the sight.

AT WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS.

GREEN BRIER, WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, West Va., August 8.—The eclipse yesterday caused the thermometer suddenly to fall with great rapidity, and the weather turned so cold that frost was visible this morning.

AT INDIANAPOLIS.

INDIANAPOLIS, August 8.—This city was outside the belt of the total eclipse, but the observation was nearly total, being thirty-five thirty-sevenths.

AT MEMPHIS.

MEMPHIS, August 7.—The eclipse of the sun began at 4:27 and ended at 5:16. Fully seven-eighths of the dise was obscured.

AT PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, August 7.—The eclipse was only a partial success here. Part of the time the sun was obscured by heavy clouds.

AT WASHINGTON CITY.

WASHINGTON, August 7.—The eclipse was witnessed by many persons on house tops and throngs everywhere in the streets.

AT BOSTON.

BOSTON, August 7.—The elipse was obscured here by clouds.

ALBANY.

Susquehanna Railroad Imbroglio—Complicated State of Affairs.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ALBANY, August 7.—The excitement in the Susquehanna railroad imbroglio continues. Yesterday Judge Peckham, on the application of the Ramsey interest, appointed Hon. H. R. Pruyn as Receiver of the road, and Superintendent Van Valkenburg was put in charge of the office. This forenoon, on going to the office, he found Mr. Herrick had been there, opening the doors of his private rooms, whereupon he called in several men and stationed them at various doors, with orders to let no one pass in. Soon after Jas. Fiske, Jr., of New York, appeared and demanded admission. He was refused, whereupon he produced papers showing he had been appointed Receiver of the road by Judge Barnard, of New York, and, calling on several men he had with him, declared his intention of forcibly taking possession. Van Valkenburg appeared and informed Fiske Hon. H. R. Pruyn had been appointed receiver, and he (Van Valkenburg) had been put in charge of the office, and ordered him (Fiske) and his party out. A melee ensued, which resulted in Fiske and his party being ejected. Still Fiske remained, making a noisy demonstration, when the Superintendent put him in charge of an officer to take him to the station house. Mr. Fiske accompanied the officer, but on showing his papers, and no one appearing against him, he was discharged. He then returned to the office, and in an interview with Superintendent Van Valkenburg informed that gentleman he had been in twenty such scrapes, but never met with the man who dared to face him and discharge his duty as he had. He further said he wanted just such a man, and if he lost in this fight he wanted him to come to him in New York. If he won, he wanted him to stay here. Thus the matter stands at present, noon.

Later—The Common Council have just held a meeting and removed Herrick, as representative of the city in the Board of Directors of the Susquehanna Railroad, and appointed Hon. Ely Perry in his place. Mr. Herrick was also Vice President of the Company, and is at the head of the opposition to the President, Mr. Ramsey.

The latest development in the Susquehanna railroad war is the arrest of Mr. Fiske for contempt of Judge Peckham's order appointing Mr. Fruyn Receiver. During the day Mr. Fiske produced papers purporting to have been issued by some Judge in New York, directing the Sheriff of this county to place Messrs. Fiske and Coulter in possession, to oust all intruders and enjoining Messrs. Fruyn and Van Valkenburg from taking any further action in connection with the road. While the Sheriff was proceeding to execute these orders, the counsel for the Ramsey party called attention to the fact that the papers lacked legal seals and could not have come from New York to-day, whereupon the Sheriff desisted and went off to take advice. Then Mr. Fiske was arrested, as stated above, went off to obtain bail, and Judge Peckham will decide on Monday who is Receiver.

Several more injunctions and counter injunctions were served this afternoon, and the affair has become so complicated that it is almost impossible to get at the exact state. The Ramsay party, however, appear to have the advantage, though Mr. Fisk has been hard at work all day to throw them. Some of the best legal talent in the State has been engaged on both sides.

ALBANY, August 8.—The exciting Susquehanna railroad war will be renewed to-morrow with increased spirit and vigor. Alderman Herrick, who was removed on Saturday by the Common Council as city representative in the board of directors, regards the action as illegal and will pay no attention to it. He is also recognized as Vice President by a majority of the board of directors.

Regatta at Toronto—Heavy Crops.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TORONTO, August 7.—One of the best regattas ever held took place here to-day. Most of the stores were closed in the afternoon, and not less than five thousand persons witnessed the race. The last race, in which intense interest was shown, was a four-oared race, out-rigged boat, distance four miles, for twenty-five dollars. It was won easy by the St. Johns crew in twenty-six minutes and thirty seconds.

A published statement of the result of the harvest from every township in Ontaria, shows a yield never before equalled.

NEWS BY CABLE.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, August 7.—The prospectus of the West India and Panama Telegraph Company has just been issued. The design is to connect South America with Europe and the United States by means of a cable from Cuba to Central America.

The Times, to-day, has an article on the duel yesterday between Cassignac and Gustav Flourens. It concludes as follows: "If better days are in store for France, if the Emperor is really bent on opening a fair field for political contests, we shall look for a gradual and final discontinuance of appeals to the sword, which only escape being ridiculous when absolutely necessarily atrocious."

The Spectator, to-day, has an editorial on the difficulties between Turkey and Egypt. The writer says it is fortunate that the Sultan and Viceroy always want money, otherwise war might result; but the western powers are likely to put a pressure on the disputants, and make Ismail yield and the Sublime Porte express satisfaction.

A dinner was given to the members of the Yacht squadron at Cowes Castle yesterday. J. G. Bennett, Jr., and many other Americans were present. Bennett's yacht Dauntless remained at anchor yesterday, declining to enter the contest.

The British Government have refused to grant an exequoter to James Haggerty, appointed consul of the United States at Glasgow. The Government base their refusal on the ground that Haggerty was connected with the Fenian movement.

A complete Government for the Hudson Bay territory will soon be formed. McDougal will probably be appointed Lieutenant Governor and Rose Minister of Finance.

The Marquis De Lavalette has arrived in London.

The Dublin Freeman, referring to the statement made by Mr. Bruce, Home Secretary, in the House of Commons, concerning the treatment of Fenian prisoners, says it has reason to believe he has been misled by prison officials into justifying the treatment of the prisoner Rossa. The facts are known and will be the subject of further investigation, which will show the severities practiced upon him have been concealed.

LONDON, Midnight.—In the House of Commons to-night, the Canada Loan Bill was read for the third time and passed.

LONDON, August 8—via French Cable.—The Saturday Review, in an article on the approaching international boat race, says; If the Harvard crew show anything new in rowing we shall be glad to see it. If she proves able to relieve the monotony of Oxford success, we think Oxford herself will be grateful for it. The resolution to surrender the peculiarities of our own system, and accept the only conditions under which it was possible to make the match, cannot be estimated too highly. At the same time the Harvards made a great concession in taking a coxswain, and the boldness with which they challenged the Oxfords on their own grounds deserves sympathy and admiration. The writer concludes by hoping that the treatment of the Americans during their visit will be such as to encourage its repetition. The Harvard boat was out for practice at Putney yesterday, with Lyman and Faye, reliefs, who lately arrived from New York. The Oxford crew are making good practice daily under Sangborne. Notwithstanding previous reports to the contrary, the date of the race has not been finally decided upon.

TURKEY.

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 7.—A proposal was made in the Counsel, yesterday, to demand the presence at Constantinople of Ismail Pasha, to report on his proceedings in Germany, France and England. It is said the representatives of the great powers in this city interposed to prevent this step. It is probable the Viceroy will come here next month and remove all unpleasant feeling before the opening of the Suez Canal.

PARIS, via French Cable, August 7.—It is rumored in Cairo that Ismail Pasha will go to Constantinople in obedience to the demand of the Sultan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 8.—The difficulty which has arisen between the Sublime Porte and the Viceroy of Egypt, is in a fair way of being satisfactorily and peacefully settled. The foreign powers have advised Ishmael Pasha to pursue a moderate course and disavow all intention of producing a rupture with the Sultan.

SPAIN.

MADRID, August 7.—Several priests and other parties have been arrested at Astoria. Some were armed and had Carlist proclamations in their possession. Skirmishes are reported between the troops and bands of Carlists in Catalonia, in which nine insurgents were killed, and many wounded and captured. Savarijas, the Carlist chieftain, has fled to Portugal.

In consequence of the participation of the clergy in the attempted rising of the Carlists, Minister Zoulla has promulgated a decree ordering the Bishops to issue circulars to the clergy of their respective dioceses, recommending obedience to the laws and threatening to withdraw the power to preach and hear confession from all who are hostile to their requirements.

FRANCE.

PARIS, August 7.—The La France has a report that the leaders of the Carlist movement have just held a conference in the South of France, at which they resolved to enter Spain and make another appeal to the people to decide for Don Carlos.

Gustav Florens, who was wounded in a duel with Paul Cassignac yesterday, is to-day pronounced out of danger.

PARIS, August 7.—via French Cable.—The Senate have appointed a Committee to examine the Senatus Consultum. The Committee has organized as a bureau by electing M. Rouher, President and M. Bouchard, Secretary.

AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, August 7.—At a meeting of the Hungarian delegation, yesterday, M. Puleky made a speech appianding the course pursued by Baron Von Beust towards Germany, and also praising his policy on the Eastern question.

MARINE NEWS.

QUEENSTOWN, August 7.—The steamer Cuba from New York, arrived yesterday.

QUEENSTOWN, August 8.—The steamship City of Baltimore, from New York, July 31st, arrived at 11 o'clock A. M. on the way to Liverpool.

The steamship Idaho, from New York, July 28th, arrived to-day on the way to Liverpool.

SOUTHAMPTON, August 8.—The steamship Rhine, from New York, July 29th, for Bremen, arrived to-day.

MOVILLE, August 8.—The steamship Brittania, from New York, July 24th, for Glasgow, arrived to-day.

Admiral Hoff Relieved—Union League Committee — Expected Visit of the French Empress—Currency Statement—Cabinet Meeting—Cuban Advices.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, August 7, 1869.

ADMIRAL HOFF RELIEVED.

Dispatches were recently sent from the Navy Department to Rear Admiral Hoff, commanding the squadron in Cuban waters, ordering him to leave the squadron in charge of the senior officer next in command and proceed with his flagship, the Albany, to Portsmouth, New Hampshire. It is, therefore, probable Admiral Hoff will be home in a few days.

NEWS FROM CUBA.

Advices from Cuba to the 30th of July, received in this city to-day, state that the Spanish troops in the insurrectionary districts have been reinforced by all the disposable forces on the Island, preparatory to active operations. In Cinco Villas District there have been several contests, in which small parties were engaged, but in every instance the Spaniards were defeated. It is reported that in these engagements the Spanish loss in killed, wounded and prisoners amounted to nearly four hundred. Reinforcements are sent principally to the district commanded by Gen. Jordan, and the campaign promised to be active, but on account of the setting in of the rainy season both parties are compelled to suspend operations. Holquin is reported to be in the possession of the Cubans, with its fortifications and stores. Cespedes' government will be removed to that place, as the position is a very strong one. The Cubans contrive to be reinforced by volunteers from the United States. Two hundred and twenty-five, recruited in Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky, succeeded in landing on the 28th and joining Quesada's forces. They carried with them arms and ammunition and a large supply of camp equipage. The health of the Cubans is stated to be good.

VISIT OF THE FRENCH EMPRESS.

It is understood that in the event of Empress Eugenie making a tour of this country, the Navy Department will be advised by the commanding officers of the United States squadron in Europe in time to make preparations for her reception. The French fleet to convey the Empress across the Atlantic will, in that event, probably be escorted by Rear Admiral Radford in his flagship, the Franklin.

UNION LEAGUE COMMITTEE.

The National Executive Committee of the Union League of America, which usually convenes in New York, will meet at the Union League House, Philadelphia, on the 11th inst. Provision will be made for the elections in Texas and Mississippi. The delegates from these States have arrived.

CABINET MEETING.

It is believed the most important subject which will engage the attention of the Cabinet on Tuesday next will be our relations with Spain concerning Cuba, when it is probable there will be a full discussion of further instructions to our Minister at Madrid.

CURRENCY STATEMENT.

The amount of fractional currency received from the printing division of the Treasury Department for the week amounted to $113,600; shipments, $213,824. Bank currency issued, $105,540; amount outstanding, $199,746,751.

SECRETARY BOUTWELL.

The report that Secretary Boutwell contemplates an early trip to San Francisco is probably premature, as the Treasury authorities here have no information whatever of such an intention on the part of the Secretary.

COLLECTOR DROWNED.

A dispatch received at the Treasury Department announces the death by drowning on the 4th inst., at St. Marks, Florida, of Thos. A. Stagner, Collector of Customs at that place.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

Several heads of departments and bureaus have already commenced preparing their annual reports.

—J. D. Harris, colored, late candidate for Lieut. Governor of Virginia, has entered suit against the owners of the Baltimore steamer Kennebec for ejecting him from the steamer's cabin.

"BY THE SEA."

ere is a new version of a "Home by Deep Heaving Sea," as performed at watering places:

TENOR—Oh give me a home by the sea,
Where hotels have a number one bar,
Where girls are so dashing and free,
And like to get away from ma'ma;
Where billiards and faro abound,
And you don't go to bed until three:
Oh, there's nothing the country around
Like a home by the deep heaving sea.

SOPRANO—Oh, give me a home by the sea,
Where hops are as common as dirt;
Where you may meet a first-class partí,
And are sure to be able to flirt;
Old Ocean is perfectly sweet,
And as lively as lively can be;
With new dresses—there's naught so complete
As a home by the deep heaving sea.

TENOR—Oh give me your love by the sea!
SOPRANO—You really must ask my mamma.
TENOR—Then to be my own br de you agree?
SOPRANO—If you'll leave off that horrid cigar.
TENOR—Then I'll send to New York for the ring—
SOPRANO—A large diamond of course it must be—
BOTH—Let us live, every year, after spring,
In a house by the deep heaving sea.

EPHEMERIS.

—Fechter is coming.

—Minnie Hauck is in Moscow.

—Portugal wants an ocean cable.

—Bonfanti has become an orphan.

—Stewart's store is growing larger.

—$30,000,000 is China's yearly opium bill.

—The Worrell sisters cleared $15,000 last year.

—Punch calls the peerage a book all title pages.

—Nova Scotia is emigrating to the United States.

—Adelina Patti has aged fearfully during the past year.

—Gavazzi talks of a fearful crisis coming soon in Italy.

—Tomahawk says the way to kill time is to shoot every day.

—Saratoga has thieves, exclusive of those from Wall street.

—Some snob has called Long Branch the Brighton of America.

—A fine beer, it is said, can be brewed from old boots in Cincinnati.

—The Tenor Carrier broke his neck by a recent fall in Bordeaux.

—Seventy stores on Broadway are empty. High rents sometimes can't be reached.

—Chang, the Chinese giant who made such a sensation in London, is now in New York.

—East Prussian crops are said to be good, and fears of a further continuance of the famine are abating.

—Men have been so scarce in some parts of the country, that women have been working in the grain fields.

—Ida Lewis is now a heroine, but when she rescued the two soldiers from drowing she was a she-rowin'.—N. Y. Express.

—Stewart's working girls' hotel is to be a first class one, which will not practice any of the common boarding-house stew-arts.

—Relations between England and America—The mother-in-law and deceased wife's sister are on their way to New York.—Judy.

—Exposure to the sun, under ordinary circumstances, results in tan. We have not heard that any similar exposure during the eclipse resulted in black and tan.

—The eating at Mount Desert Island is said to be horrible. Hash, fish and a pudding made of oats and molasses are mentioned as constituting the bill of fare.

—Why do not more people learn glove-making; almost any number would be sure of employment, as the Boston Post says glove-makers are always in need of hands.

—The second volume of Mr. Wm. Morris's Earthly Paradise will be published in November. It is said that this volume will make this the longest poem ever printed.

—Olive Logan's letters go from bad to worse. The next thing may be to have them bound in yellow and put up in wrappers by which postmasters may learn to distinguish them.

—Muehlbach das decided not to come over this year. Her decision is a wise one; if she had come last year she would have been a lioness of the first rank, but now her fame has faded perceptibly.

—Lord Stanley, of Alderly, who died recently, is succeeded by his eldest son, who a few years ago abjured Christianity and embraced Mohommedanism. This is said to be the first instance of a Mussulman member of the English House of Lords.

—An English pickpocket was recently arrested at Homburg, as he was in the act of taking 15,000 frances from the pocket of Mustapha Fayzil Pacha, the brother of the Viceroy of Egypt, who was jus tleaving one of the gaming tables.

—The dying lepers at the hospital at the Sandwich Islands danced the native hula hula at a ball given in the building to the patients. Many of the dancers were so nearly decomposed that they dropped in fragments and were picked up and carried off in baskets, piecemeal.

—St. Louis is to have a fine new Post-office, and consequently arrogantly demands all the government buildings and the government too. We might like to move the Capitol from scorching Washington, but hardly to broiling, dusty St. Louis. There seems to be no immediate necessity for making an acrobatic spectacle of ourselves by leaping from the frying pan into the fire.

—Doubtless the numerous friends of Hon. E. M. Stanton, in this vicinity, will recognize at once the following admirable and charasteristic pen portrait of him from that most moderate of journals, the Memphis Avalanche: "The murderous two-legged hyena, every fibre of whose vile carcass is saturated with gore, his jaws dripping with crimson froth, reeking with the blood of half a million fellow-beings, sacrificed to the Molochs of hellish ambition, fanaticism and hate."

—It is proposed that Mr. Jefferson Davis' admirers shall buy him a country seat near Louisville. It would be a much neater compliment if they would purchase one of the little German sovereignties, say Reuss-Lobenstein, and present it to Mr. D. This would show that although they could not help him to a mighty American empire, they did what they could. The only drawback to this would probably be that the new prince would want to be called Jefferson I., and the people of Reuss-Lobenstein like their rulers to be called Heinrich, but Heinrich XCV. would not sound so bad after all, giving the idea of the descendant of a long line of sovereign ancestors.

How Lovely Ladies Look in the Salt Sur of the Sad Sea.

(Long Branch Letter to Indianapolis Journal.)

About 10½ o'clock the white flag is raised, which is the signal for bathing, when preparations for that rare sport are immediately commenced, and small parties start for the booths on the beach; these booths are mere board houses, about four feet square, just large enough for a well developed crinoline to get in. They resemble pig-pens more than dressing rooms for ladies and gentlemen, but they are all alike, and answer the purpose. You will see a fashionably attired lady or gentleman enter one of these narrow dens, and in a few moments emerge minus all the "toggery" that contributes to make up the inviting exterior, clad in a flannel jacket and pants, the latter coming only to the ankle, generally in their bare feet, with an old straw hat tied down in the most ludicrous and uninviting manner to prevent wearers from being sunburned, the reflection of the sun on the water being quite severe. Bathers when dressed for the bath all look alike; but those clad in such meagre habiliments for the first time are generally nervous, and act very much as if they were ashamed of themselves, and glance down at their pants, especially if they are ladies, in a manner that is highly amusing to all veteran salts. They venture in the water cautiously and not unlike young ducks, but finally, after being buffeted and tossed about by the surf for a half hour, or so, they invariably put on a bold face and march out of the water as if they were "no novices."

Here is an excellent opportunity for a single gentleman matrimonially inclined to see what amount of frauds there are upon the market. The young lady who may appear to possess a handsome figure, and is always gotten up on the expansive principle, with a profusion of false hair, hoops, pads, and all the paraphernalia known to female genius and penetration, may prove to be a mere skeleton when she is disentangled and extricated from the mysterious and complicated concerns which surround her. While upon the other hand, if the lady is inclined to embonpoint and is laced up daily with a block and tackle in order to make her waist appear small, or compress her proportions into an unreasonably small quantity of dry goods, the fact will reveal itself the moment she is well saturated with the surf. She can take none of her "make-up" into the water with her. The ocean is honest. While the bathing-dress will not adhere to the skin, it will do so readily to any other substance, like a corset or —— I shan't tell what else, for the reason that I am not au fait in such matters. But the woman is before you, devoid of all deformities, and you can form an adequate idea of what you will be called upon to disburse your stamps for, should you enter into a matrimonial alliance with her. It would be a great consolation to know these things in advance. The water is a great leveler of distinction. It treats all of its patrons precisely alike; the rich and the poor, the strong and the weak, are all swayed to and fro, knocked down or thrown upon the beach by its resistless waves, as if they were mere blocks of wood. Every one is in the best of humor, and if any unlucky novice in sea bathing should swallow a mouthful of salt water and stop to cough, and the succeeding wave take him amidships, and send him sprawling toward the shore, his mouth wide open, to receive a fresh supply, the crowd, as well as the hundreds on the beach, will shout with delight.

EDUCATING GIRLS.—It appears from a recent report on technical instruction in Germany and Switzerland, that there is an institute at Vienna at which the daughters of officers with limited means and large families are educated, so as to be able to take situations as governesses in wealthy families. The pupils are seventy-eight in number, and the expense of the establishment is defrayed by the Government and private benefactions. Girls are admitted from six to eight years, and remain until they are twenty. The pupils are distributed into four classes, and each class has two divisions. The directress of the establishment has under her orders four sub-directresses, a mistress for needlework, and a mistress for teaching housekeeping.

THE Detroit Post says there is a family living in the Third ward of that city, consisting of a mother, two daughters and a grand-son, whose ties of relationship are slightly mixed. The eldest daughter was married a few years since to her own grand-father (since deceased), and by him she had a son; hence, as that child is the son of his grandfather, he is brother to his grand-mother and uncle to his mother. The other daughter has lately espoused her mother's brother, consequently our hero is uncle to his uncle, and pretty generally related to the whole family.

TO PRESERVE CUT FLOWERS.—Put them in a vase or deep plate, filled with water, then cover the same with a glass, such as is used in apiaries, having a small hole at the top, as the air must not be entirely excluded, but sufficient ventilation given to allow the damp to escape. A dish of wild flowers thus placed has been kept more than ten days in perfect beauty, making fresh buds and expanding every day.

BAPTIST brother:—I don't like your church government. It isn't simple enough. There is too much machinery about it. Methodist brother: It is true, we have more machinery than you; but then, you see, it don't take near so much water to run it.

The Apostles' Creed.

The precise origin of this simplest and most ancient of all the creeds is involved in some uncertainty, and has long been a matter of dispute among learned theologians. It is at least certain that its universal use in the Church may be traced back, if not to the apostolic age itself, yet to that immediately succeeding; and there is a very old tradition that each of the twelve articles of the creed was composed by an apostolic author.

It is said the twelve assembled in council before dispersing themselves to preach the Gospel throughout the world, to frame the symbol or watchword of the Christian Church, and it will be interesting to our readers to know the apostle to whom each article is ascribed. The tradition is as follows:

St. Peter—"I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth."

St. Andrew—"And in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord."

St. James the Great—"Who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, born of the Virgin Mary."

St. John—"Suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead and buried."

St. Thomas—"He descended into hell," [or, "He went into a place of departed spirits," which are considered as words of the same meaning,] "the third day he arose from the dead."

St. James the Less—"He ascended into into heaven, and sitteth on the right hand of God the Father Almighty."

St. Phillip—"From thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead."

St. Bartholomew—"I believe in the Holy Ghost."

St. Matthew—"The Holy Catholic Church, the Communion of Saints."

St. Simon—"The forgiveness of Sins."

St. Judas Thaddeus—"Resurrection of the body."

St. Matthias—"And the Life everlasting—Amen."

Negroes and the Chinese.

"Russell," who is writing letters to the Boston Traveller from the Battle Fields of the South, furnishes the following intelligent view of negro sentiment toward the coming Chinese. He says:

When we were at Corinth, Miss., the question of introducing Chinese labor and driving out the negroes, was agitated by the planters, One old darkey with whom we fell into conversation seemed to take it much at heart, and inquired of us if we supposed that "dem Chinesemens would come, nohow." We told him we thought that some of them might come, but did not think that their work would fill the place of negro labor.

"It's jis here, massa," said he, throwing his long arms about in a wild way, "I hain't seen nary Chinese mens in all dis life. But I've heerd dat dey has tails like de alligators on de top ob de back side ob dar heads, and dat dey jist says to dis ting be thou doned and it am dun, and Ise ob de pinnion dat de Chinese mens dese secesh are after am de berry debil hisself what am ter lib on de earth mor'n a thousand year. He can't come nigh unto dis chile, no how. I'll fight him. I'll scratch him, I'll shoot him, I'll fro eberyting I hab in his face, I'll trod on his tail, I'll hab my miff wid him if he turns to brimstone and burns ebery har from off my ole head, dat I will. I'll take dis yar ole hoe an I'll jab him afoe and ahind, and so dorter do de whole ob de humane family an expostulate him trom dis yar land. What kin de Chinese man do wid dis hard sile. Nuffin whatever. De corn will curl up, de cotton will singe afoe him as dough he was a coal of libbin, shinin fire!"

"But how do your neighbors feel about it?" inquired we.

"Lor, lor! Dey hab jist tarmined ter meet at der ole meetin house an dar organize a cullud army. And we'se gewin to choose de preacher capn, and den we'll go inter 'em prain and preachin."

"But what if praying and preaching will not do the work?" said we.

"Why den we take de whole subject nter our own hans, an' we'll bump 'em iup an' down till de day of doom if dey don't lebe us in peace on de land of our forefadders. Dey is imps of the debil, an' our parson knows it, an de sooner dey be tarminated de better fur all pussons ob color. De Lord hab mercy on all dat come inter dis county! Dey'll be busted, no how.

A New Sensation at Bedford Springs.

The Bedford Inquirer says: Wonderful stories are afloat concerning ghosts that are seen in an old dilapidated building in St. Clair township. Crowds of people assemble there daily to witness the phenomenon. A number of visitors attending the Springs have gone out to see, and curious as it may seem, testify to the reports current, "that human forms are seen at all hours of the day, and though they do not talk, they assume menacing attitudes, and gesticulate with a stick or cane." A strange feature of the affair is, that these apparitions are only seen in day time and that all persons cannot see them; of this class, are persons of blue eyes. The house is inhabited by an old lady and her daughter, who, though terribly affrighted at the spectres, have not decamped. We will not attempt to explain the cause of this phenomenon, for we have not seen it, and though our eyes are black, we think we would be classed with the blue, for our faith in ghosts is ghostish.

Watering Horses Without Stopping.

A Jersey genius has invented a device for watering horses when traveling or at work, by which their thirst may be assuaged without stopping. It appears to be more particularly designed for the benefit of the draught animals of city street cars. The bit of the bridle or headstall is made hollow, and has attached to it a flexible tube connected with a tank carried in or on the vehicle. By pulling a string the water is caused to flow into the bit, and thence through a suitable orifice into the horse's mouth. This beats the apparatus for filling locomotive tanks without stopping.

A CORRESPONDENT writes of Miss Braddon's illness as follows, "Reference to sensational writers reminds me of the continued mental alienation of the princess of sensational writers, Miss Braddon. Several months ago I learned with sorrow that her mind had become seriously affected, and that it had been found necessary to place her under special medical care and partial restraint. Remembering the immense amount she had written, and the marvelously sensational character of her works, I was not surprised at such a painful result. I am happy to hear that repose and kind care have done much towards her restoration, but she is forbidden to write, and although her passion for writing is still great, this prohibition is very rarely relaxed."

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL
of private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovarills, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. Where it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 3 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK.

The clog in the oil business noted from day to day for some time past still continues, and what is worse still there is no prospect of any immediate improvement. The fact that crude is much higher relatively than refined is telling with considerable force against the oil trade of Pittsburgh, and the worst feature apparent just now lies in the fact that, as yet, no remedy has been discovered. Our refiners have their hands tied, being unable to move in the present condition of affairs, as the inequality in prices renders it impossible for them to entertain fresh negotiations, and it looks now, unless there is a radical change in the situation, as if they would have to suspend operations, as soon as they have filled their old contracts. This is to be regretted, especially at this season of the year, but it would appear just now that there is no help for it. Possibly a movement of this kind would bring about the object so sought for, and it is also possible that the trade may right itself without this, at least it is to be hoped so, though it must be conceded that the prospects are not very encouraging just now.

Receipts Crude this week, 18,498; last week, 11,738; from January 1st to date, 483,077; same time last year, 677,638. Exports Refined this week, 15,182; last week, 18,229; January 1st to date, 300,255; same time last year, 359,385. Sales this week, 29,000; last week, 64,650.

CRUDE.

Market continues firm but quiet, not a single sale reported. Spot may be fairly quoted at 14¾@15, and but little offering, though it is equally true that there are but few buyers. Seller all year, nominal at 14½, and buyer all year at 16¼. Sales reported at Oil City at $6,10, which is considered more than 15 cents here.

REFINED.

Also firm but very quiet—not a single sale reported. Spot quoted at 31½@31¾, with the inside figure offered for from 3,000 to 5,000 bbls. Last half of August at 32¼; September at 32¾@33; and last three or four months 33.

RIVER NEWS.

River about stationary, with 3 feet inches by the Monongahela marks last evening. Weather yesterday clear and pleasant. Mercury at 5 P. M. 76 in the shade.

—The Leonidas left Cincinnati for New Orleans on Thursday, with all the freight she wanted.

—Abraham Gonzales, a former river captain, was arrested at St. Louis, Tuesday, charged with embezzlement.

—The Nat Williams will enter the Louisville and Madison trade next week, in opposition to the Leonora No. 2.

—The Glendale, from St. Louis, is the only arrival. She had a fair trip, including, among other items, 200 tons metal.

—The Mollie Ebert being unable to ascend the falls, and too long to come through the canal, laid up at Portland to await more water.

—The Bellevernon left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Wednesday with a fair freight list, including 1,800 bbls flour, 200 bbls fire clay, and 100 tons metal. She will take a barge in tow at Sulphur Springs.

—Sixty-two thousand bales of hay were shipped from Vevay, Indiana, during the past season. U. P. Schencs & Co. also shipped 500 bales of straw and 20,000 bushels of potatoes during the same period.

—The sternwheel steamer Laura, which lately plied in the Upper White river trade, was sold at Memphis recently by the United States Marshal. She was bid in by one of her creditors, Mr. A. J. White, at $2,500.

—The Ripley Bee says that Ripley is beginning to be considerable of a port. Another new packet has been put in the trade between there and Concord, Kentucky, the Mattie Bell, to make daily trips. The Jonas Powell still continues to run between Ripley and Portsmouth.

—The Leavenworth Bulletin says that on a recent trip from Fort Benton to St. Louis the Ida Rees distanced all competitors, and beat the Importer, the next fastest boat, eight hours. The distance was 6,400 miles, and the race was kept up from the time the boats left Fort Benton until they rounded to at the St. Louis wharf. The St. Louis Democrat says that there is a good deal in the report of the Bulletin that is not true.

—The gigantic dock, which was built in England for Bermuda, arrived at one of the Maderia Islands on the 4th of July, having thus accomblished one-third of its voyage. Some idea may be formed of the enterprise of safely conveying such a huge monster across the Atlantic, by reading the following account of her dimensions: High above water, 63 feet, with 11 below—total, 74 feet; breadth from side to side, 83 feet, with a thickness of 20 feet of hull on either side, making in all 123 feet across; length, 381 feet. Her lifting power is equal to 8,300 tuns. The dock left England June 23, making the voyage to Madeira in eleven days.

Safety Fire Jacket, Car Heater and MODERATOR.

For Smoke and Hot Air Flues, dispensing with the use of stoves and fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached. Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket, which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended.

It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c. Wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired, I will send on application right to manufacture or use the above invention. ALABAMA has elected four Republicans and two Democrats to Congress. We have no returns as to the State Legislature.

THE work of construction is in progress along the entire length of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railway, and another year will complete our direct connection with Baltimore.

FROST AND SNOW are unseasonable luxuries in an American August. Maine had a snow storm on Friday night, and at our own Altoona, on Saturday morning, a heavy frost whitened the ground.

IT IS RUMORED in Philadelphia that the Packer men are bargaining with their disreputable nominees, on the Democratic city ticket, to buy them off. The value of the respective nominations has been assessed, and the only thing, at present, in the way of a trade, is that the Packer men think the figure too high. These rumors have general currency in that city, and seem to be generally credited. There are, moreover, not a few people who regard it as the joke of the season that Mr. Packer's friends should profess such a Pecksniffian distaste for the local association.s

THE ECLIPSE on Saturday afternoon afforded a vast field for interesting study and observation to the scientific, and that the opportunity was fully embraced the copious notes elsewhere reported amply demonstrate. Much valuable information pertaining to the planetary system, and a wider, fuller and broader knowledge of the beautiful science of Astronomy, must certainly result from the careful observations taken at various points by those who devote their lives to star gazing. Persons interested in the greater development of science will impatiently await the details of the observations made where the total eclipse was witnessed and submitted to all the searching investigations of true scholars, aided by the many faultless astronomical instruments which have been invented during the past score of years to faithfully register the movements of the heavenly bodies and detect many facts of value connected with them.

THE HOPE had prevailed previous to Saturday that the contest for aquatic superiority on the Monongahela river between HAMILL and COULTER would have contributed toward elevating the invigorating sport, and redeeming it from the odium and distrust in which it was almost universally held by a people who thought their confidence had been repeatedly outraged during the fouling season. Those, however, who repaired to the course on Saturday to see a fair and manly contest between the acknowledged aquatic champions of the State, returned home with expectations sadly disappointed. The race was a farce, a bare repetition of the old story—a fraud, a cheat, a deception. We are sorry that it did not realize the hopes of those who, while not actually interested in sporting matters, felt that there was a possibility of their being elevated to a higher plane and made sources of innocent amusement to the public, and at the same time engender a spirit looking to the greater physical development and improvement of the people. It seems that the day for fair races on the water has gone by, and until those participating in them show evidence of reform and less disposition to humbug the people, they should receive no encouragement and be frowned down in their demoralizing exhibitions.

REPUBLICAN DISSENSIONS in Tennessee result in the loss of the State Government. The majority for SENTER is large, but the opposition majority in the new Legislature is still more decisive. The jubilant rebels claim this result as a victory for "reform and a white man's Government," and measures for calling a Constitutional Convention are already under discussion. Every rebel is to be legally enfranchised. This, we did not object to. But colored suffrage is to be materially or wholly abrogated, if the rebel programme can be carried out—a point upon which there may prove to be some doubts. The policy of the now victorious opposition must have the effect to heal Republican divisions—and to restore, in due time, the Republican ascendancy. The present rebel majority will reject the XVth Article, and will send some bad man, almost as bad as Johnson, to the U. S. Senate; and it will remit the local politics of the State to the wretched situation of six and seven years since. Beyond these results, the rebel victory will amount to but little, so long as Gov. SENTER remains faithful to his own Republican profession. Without his co-operation, the colored disfranchisement, which the rebels propose, can never be consummated—and that leaves it among the certainties that the Republicans of Tennessee, wiser for this year's experience, will 'ere long regain their local mastery.

OHIO POLITICS.

General ROSECRANS declines the doubtful honor of leading the Ohio Democracy in the present canvass, as their nominee for Governor. If the dispatch in another column comprehends the entire text of his declared refusal, it must be regarded as significant of anything else but a grateful sense of an intended distinction. It is possible that the mails may bring, to the distracted opposition in our adjoining State, a more elaborate statement of the General's position and sentiments. The present telegram is in reply to a categorical demand sent to him, also by telegraph on Friday, that he should accept or decline at once. His more formal letter, if he writes one, may place his declination on the same courteous ground, that of existing private obligations, but there can be no real question upon the facts, that Gen. ROSECRANS could not under any circumstances, accept such a nomination from a party having a record so disloyal, and that the rebel sympathies of the Ohio Democracy must have decisively excluded any possibility of their giving to any distinguished soldiers in the Union cause a sincere and efficient support.

The State Convention will be again assembled, to fill the vacant leadership on their ticket; its choice ought to lay between Messrs. PENDLETON and RANNEY. But it is said that the latter absolutely declines to permit any further consideration of his name. There are a baker's dozen of nobodies, like Cary, McCook and White, whose names may be discussed on the margin of the new Convention, but, if Judge RANNEY adheres to his refusal the selection of Mr. PENDLETON now seems inevitable. The platform, as it now stands, will suit that gentleman, its leading resolutions reiterating his peculiar dogmas touching the taxation and redemption of the Federal bonds, going, indeed, a step farther than he was frank enough to admit last year, and boldly presenting the alternative of repudiation.

It is quite useless for the Ohio Democracy to repeat the rash experiment which has resulted so unfortunately. The second Convention will not risk another military nomination. The dissatisfaction occasioned by the selection of ROSECRANS, and which is so prominent that a call is now out for another Convention of the true "Copperhead" party, warns the leading wire-workers against a second imposition upon Democratic patience and consistency. The Convention which is to meet again, will look for some candidate who will stick, among the old Democratic guard, and Mr. PENDLETON will be found, still as he has been, their most available man. They should have taken him at first, avoiding thereby the demoralization which the Rosecrans blunder has caused, and the odium of a sectarian attack upon the popular system of education, which will continue to plague the Democracy as an especially mischievous result of their false move. Whomsoever they shall now put in nomination he will go into the canvass against the heaviest odds. We shall see if Mr. PENDLETON has the courage to meet the situation.

THE COAL QUESTION.

The strike among the miners throughout the anthracite counties has certainly had the effect which the projectors of it designed, of increasing the price of coal. The advance in rates has been large, and this notwithstanding the supply will be at least as full as last year. The improved prices inure to the benefit of the miners, the individual operators and the middle-men, while the great corporations, common laborers, dock-hands, boatmen and the consumers of coal are the sufferers. As a natural consequence a strong and almost unanimous feeling has grown up in New York and the New England States in favor of the repeal of the entire duty on foreign coal. Excepting the New York Tribune, we cannot recall a single newspaper of influence that is likely to resist this movement, and even that journal, so far as our recollection serves, has given no absolute indication of its opposition.

It is certainly asking much of the consumers of any commodity that they consent to have foreign competition excluded by impost-duties, and domestic competition by combinations among home producers. Such an arrangement renders nugatory one of the most potent arguments in favor of the protective policy, which is, that discriminating or even prohibitory duties do not tend to monopoly, because home rivalry would bring down rates to the lowest point at which any article can be afforded. If, therefore, the miners should bring down upon themselves sharp competition from abroad, they would deserve it richly, and find no sympathy in their discomfiture. The people of this country, or of any considerable portion thereof, ought not to submit to monopoly in any article of prime necessity, for so much as a day, if they have an efficient remedy in their hands, and they will not.

It may turn out, that with an assured and steady market, the trade in foreign coal, with the present duty of $1.40 (gold) taken off, would assume such magnitude as to operate as a counterpoise to combination at home.

It is not understood that the leading coal companies will interpose a formidable opposition to the repeal of the duties. They rest upon two assumptions; first, that the repeal of the duty will not accomplish the end aimed at; second, that if it shall, their own operations will be placed on a basis of certainty which they can never attain so long as the miners virtually dictate the rates at which coal shall be sold.

What effect the movement for the admission of foreign coal will have upon the general scheme of protection now in force, is a matter that cannot fail to elicit serious consideration. Quite probably, under cover of this movement, which appears to be so popular as to defy resistance, attempts will be made to reduce or repeal the imposts on other articles, especially on those the production of which is now held in monopoly, either through patents or other instrumentalities. If so, the movement may ultimately reach a volume disastrous to the whole manufacturing industry of the country. In view of the portents, it certainly becomes those who are specially interested in the maintenance of protection to ascertain what means of defence they possess against the impending blow.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY COMMITTEE.

Meeting on Saturday—Report of Committee on Registration, etc.

The Union Republican Executive Committee met on Saturday, at eleven o'clock, in the District Court room, and was called to order by the Chairman, W. S. Purviance, Esq.

There was a large attendance and a considerable amount of routine business was transacted.

DIGEST OF THE REGISTRY LAW.

B. F. Lucas, Esq., Chairman of the Committee on Registration, submitted the following report, which was accepted and adopted.

The Committee on Registration appointed by the Republican Executive Committee of Allegheny county, respectfully beg leave to report the following synopsis or digest of the Registration act, approved April 17, 1869, which, in the opinion of your Committee, exhibits the various things necessary to be done under the provisions of so much of said act as is applicable to the State at large, including the duties to be performed by the Commissioners, Assessors, Election officers, etc.

FIRST: Duties of Assessors:

By Section 1, of the Registration act, each Assessor is required to take up the transcript, or list of taxables resident within his district, furnished him by the Commissioners of the county, under the provisions of the act of April 15, 1834, section 8, relating to the assessment of taxes.

In almost every district names will be found on this list or transcript, of persons who are not legal voters. It is made the duty of each assessor to commence the revision of this list on the first Monday of June in each year. He is required

First.—To strike from this list the names of every person who is know by him to have died, or removed from his district, since the last previous assessements, or in other words, since the said list was made out.

Second.—He shall also strike from the said list the names of such persons as shall have been made known to him to have died or removed from the district.

Third—He shall add to the same list the names of such persons as he shall know to be qualified voters, and who shall be known by him to have removed into the district since the last previous assessment.

Fourth—He shall also add to such list the names of such persons, qualified voters as shall be made known to him to have removed into said district since the last previous assessment.

Under this Fourth Article it is proper to remark that Assessors should add to the lists the names of no persons not known to them, without satisfactory evidence that such persons had not only moved into the district since the last previous assessment, but also that they were legal voters.

Fifth—He shall also add to the said list the names of all persons who shall make claims to him to be qualified voters in his district.

And here again, under this fifth article, it is proper to say that the Assessor should not add to his list the name of any person making claim to him to be a qualified voter in his district if the Assessor know him to be either a non-resident of the district, or if a resident, not to be a legal voter. And if the person making such claim be wholly unknown to the Assessor, it is his duty to require of the person so claiming to have his name added to the list, clear and satisfactory proof both of his residence within the district and his legal right to vote.

Sixth—So soon as the Assessor shall have completed the revision of his list in the manner before stated, it is his duty to take his list so revised, and visit every dwelling house in his district, and ascertain by careful inquiry if any person whose name still remains on his list has died or removed from the district, and if so, to strike such name from the list. He will also carefully inquire so as to ascertain whether any qualified voter resides in his district whose name is not on his list, and if so to add such name to his list. The Assessor should be careful to add no name to his list without being fully satisfied, either from his own personal knowledge, or from satisfactory evidence, that the person whose name is so added to the list is a legal voter and a bona fide resident of the district.

Seventh.—In all cases of an addition of a name to his list by the assessor, he shall assess a tax forthwith to such person; and the Assessor shall in all cases ascertain, by inquiry, upon what ground the person so assessed claims to be a voter.

From this provision of the act it will be at once seen that the duty of the Assessor is to see personally, in all cases of additions to the list, every person whom he registers within his district. He should register the name of no person at the instance or request of a third party, but only at the instance of the person to be registered himself, and then only upon the personal knowledge of the Assessor of the applicant's right to register, or upon sufficient evidence of such right.

Eighth—Upon the completion of the registration, the Assessor is to prepare an alphabetical list of the white freemen, above twenty-one years of age claiming to be qualified voters in his district, and oppisite each name he shall state whether such alleged voter is or is not a housekeeper, and if a housekeeper, he shall note the street and number of his house, if lying in a town where the houses are numbered, or the names of the streets, alleys, or Court, if in a town where the houses are not numbered.

If the person registered be not a housekeeper, the Assessor will note upon his list of voters the place of boarding of the person registered, and the name of the person with whom he boards, and in all cases he will note the occupation of the person registered, and if working for another, the name of the person for whom he is working. He will also write opposite the name of each person registered the word "voter."

Ninth—No Assessor should register any person claiming to vote by reason of his being naturalized until such person exhibits to him his certificate of natnralization, unless such person shall have been a voter in such district for five consecutive years next preceding such registration.

Tenth—The name of every person registered by reason of naturalization should be marked with the letter "N." But if the person has only declared his intention to become a citizen, intending to be naturalized before the next election, the name shall be marked "D. I."

Eleventh—When the person registered claims to vote because of his being between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-two, the Assessor, at the time of registering him should write opposite his name the word "age."

Twelfth—If the person registered has moved into the district to reside since the last general election, the Assessor should place the letter "R" opposite his name.

Thirteenth—Upon the completion of the list of registration and assessment by the Assessor, it is made his duty by the second section of the act, forthwith to return the same to the Commissioners of the county, who shall cause duplicate copies of the said lists, with the observations and explanations, to be made out as soon as practicable, which duplicrte copies they are to place in the hands of the Assessor, whose duty it is made to put one copy thereof on the door of or on the house where the election of the district is required to be held, and to retain the other in his possession for the inspection of any voter of the district who may desire to see the same.

Fourteenth—It is further made the duty of each Assessor, from time to time, to add, on the personal application of any one claiming the right to vote, the name of such claimant, marking opposite the name "C. V.," meaning thereby that the person claims a right to vote, and immediately to assess such person with a tax, noting, as in all other cases, his occupation, residence, whether a boarder or a housekeeper; if a boarder with whom he boards, and whether naturalized or designing to be naturalized.

Fifteenth—Any person so claiming to be assessed and registered who has been, or claims to have been naturalized shall, at the time he applies at be assessed, exhibit to the Assessor his certificate of naturalization, and if he claims that he designs to be naturalized before the next election, he shall exhibit the certificates of his declaration of intentions.

Sixteenth—No assessment or registration of any names shall be made within ten days next before any election, by any Assessor under a penalty or fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or imprisonment not exceeding three months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Seventeenth.—After the assessments have been completed on the tenth day before the second Tuesday in October in each year (and the same before each Presidential election), the Assessor shall, on the Monday immediately following, make a return to the County Commissioners of the names of all persons assessed by him since his previous return.

SECOND. Duties of County Commissioners:

First—It is made the duty of the County Commissioners to furnish the Assessors with the list of taxables or transcript required by the 8th section of the act of April 15, 1834.

Second—Upon the return by the Assessors of the assessments and additional assessments and registrations by the Assessors they are required to have prepared and furnish to the Assessors duplicate copies thereof.

Third—It is also their duty to furnish to the election officers a full and correct copy of the Assessment containing the names of all persons returned by the Assessors of the respective districts as resident taxables in said districts, together with the necessary election blanks.

THIRD—Duties of Election Officers:

First—It is the duty under the registration law to reject the votes offered by all persons whose names are not found on the assessment or registration lists furnished to them by the County Commissioners, unless such persons are able to make the proof of their right to vote as required by the 4th section.

Second—It shall be the duty of the election officers, in case any person offers to vote whose name is not found upon the proper assessment list, to require such person to make proof of his right to vote by producing at least one qualified voter of the district as a witness of his residence within the district at least ten days next preceding such election. Such witness shall be required by the board to take and subscribe a written or printed affidavit to the facts stated by him, which affidavit shall define clearly the place of residence of the person so claiming to vote.

They shall also require a written or printed affidavit to be taken and subscribed by the party to vote, stating to the best of his knowledge and belief when and where he was born; that he is a citizen of the Commonwealth and of the United States, and the length of time he has resided within this Commonwealth; that he did not move into the district for the purpose of voting therein; that he has paid a State or county tax within two years which was assessed at least ten days before the election at which he offers to vote; and if a naturalized citizen he shall state when, where and by what court he was naturalized, and shall also produce his certificate of naturalization for examination; such affidavit shall also state when and where such tax shall have been assessed, and to whom paid, and he shall produce a receipt for such tax unless he shall state in his affidavit that such receipt has been lost. And such affidavits shall be filed with the election board and returned by them with the list of voters.

Third—In all cases of a voter claiming to vote by reason of having been naturalized, the election officers should require him to produce his certificate of naturalization when offering to vote, unless he has been a voter in the district for at least ten years preceding such election.

The penalty imposed upon assessors, election officers, &c.. for any neglect of duty under the act is a fine of one hundred dollars; and if any assessor shall assess any person not a voter, or shall refuse to assess any person who is a qualified voter, he shall be quilty of a misdemeanor in office, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by fine and imprisonment.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEES.

The following resolution relative to the appointment of Vigilance Committees was then adopted:

Resolved, That when this Committee adjourns it adjourns to meet in the District Court room, at two o'clock P. M., Thursday, August 12th, for the purpose of appointing Vigilant Committees for the different election districts of the county, and for such other business as may come before the Committee.

A full attendance of the members at the next meeting is essentially desired, as the appointment of proper Vigilance Committees is a matter of great importance.

NEW YORK CITY.

Yellow Fever Deaths—Habeas Corpus Case—Tailors' Strike—Conference at the House of Secretary Fish—A Human Beast—Will of Rufus Lord, &c, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 7, 1869.

John Noyes, second mate of the bark Gertrude, admitted to the quarantine hospital on Wednesday, died yesterday of yellow fever. Another seamen from the same bark is suffering therefrom.

J. H. Platt, alleged fugitive murderer from Texas and ex-rebel major, who has been committed for examination, to-day applied, through his counsel, Roger A. Pryor, for a writ of habeas corpus, alleging that while ostensibly held for examination, the design really was to send him to Texas to be tried by court martial. The writ was granted by Justice McCunn, returnable on the 9th.

The tailors' strike continues, but indications point to an early end of it. At a meeting to-day several shops gave in reports acceding to the demands. A procession of strikers will take place on Monday.

The English forgers, Harwood and Hatchin, sailed to-day in the City of Washington under charge of Detective Irving.

Yesterday, Grant, Fisk and Pierrepont held a conference at the residence of Mr. Fish, on the Hudson, on the subject of the recent seizure of Spanish gun-boats. Judge Pierrepont informed the reporters that it had been agreed to allow matters to remain as they are at present, and the President would hold a Cabinet meeting for the discussion of the subject next Tuesday.

The Board of Health to-day refused to prohibit at once all fat boiling in the city, but directed the Sanitary Superintendent to employ all the inspectors he could spare to watch the establishments where this business is conducted.

Archbishop McCloskey sailed in the Ville de Paris to-day.

The steamers Union and Bellona, from Europe, arrived to-day,

President Grant had a brilliant reception at Newburg to-day.

A man named Echiel Singler, who narrowly escaped lynching from his neighbors, for the commission of a nameless crime upon his two children, one a girl of six years and the other a boy of fifteen months, is under arrest. The evidence is damning. The youngest child is dead and it is understood another died some time ago from similar treatment.

An unknown man, who said he was a citizen of Louisiana, called on Commissioner Shields to-day and asked his cooperation to secure the return of a runaway negro girl who had been apprenticed to him under the laws of Louisiana. On being informed that no aid could be given him he departed quite crestfallen.

NEW YORK, August 8.—The will of the late Rufus Lord bequeaths the bulk of his estate of four millions to two of his brothers. Other brothers and sisters and relatives receive moderate amounts, and $20,000 is given to charitable societies.

The noted Five Points buildings are being demolished as a consequence of the opening of Worth street, from Centre to Chatham.

CINCINNATI.

The Fabric Exhibition—Sales of Goods—A Great Success in all Respects.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, August 7—The trade sales connected with the Textile Fabric Exposition were concluded this afternoon, a large quantity of goods having been disposed of during the forenoon. There were more buyers than yesterday, and prices were well sustained, particularly of jeans and blankets. Brown sheetings and other heavy cottons sold at outside figures. The bale of premium sheeting sold at 19¾ cents to Goltlieb & Co., of this city. Nearly all the goods contributed to the Exposition were sold at prices to suit both manufacturers and managers. The Exposition has been a great success in all respects and is regarded as the greatest event in the commercial history of Cincinnati.

R. W. M. Gardan's chemical works were destroyed by fire this morning. Loss $20,000; insured.

Hughes & Foster's planing mill was burned last night. Loss $15,000; insurance $6,000.

—A disastrous fire occurred Saturday morning, at Elizabethtown, Ky., destroying six dry goods stores, three groceries, six stables, four bar-rooms, the Hawkins Hotel, one confectionary, two boot and shoe stores, one saddlery, one meat store, one dwelling house, one tenpin alley, a railroad office, and four outbuildings. Loss about $120,000; insurance small.

CHICAGO.

The Great Five Days' Turnerfest.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

CHICAGO, August 7.—The city is alive to-day with Turners, who came here from all parts of the country to attend the great Five Days' Turnerfest, which commenced to-day. The official reception of the Turners takes place this afternoon at Farwell Hall, to which place all the Turners will form in procession and march. The ceremonies will consist of a welcome speech by Arthur Esbe, President of the Festival, a welcome speech by Mayor Schintz, music, &c. This will be followed by a torchlight procession to-morrow. The Turners will form in procession and march to Wright's Grove, on the northern limits of the city, which will be their headquarters during the festival.

CHICAGO, August 8.—The Turners continued their festival to-day. At an early hour they formed in procession, full three thousand strong, and marched to Wright's Grove, on the northern boundaries of the city, where halls had been erected for their use. Speeches were made by Gen. Hasbrouck Davis in English and by several German orators. This was followed by gymnastic performances by the Turners, followed by a grand dinner.

The day's amusements closed with more gymnastic performances, when they returned to the city. During the day there were from ten to fifteen hundred people in the grove. There was little or no boisterous or riotous conduct. This evening has been devoted by the Turners to social gatherings at the various halls, &c.

The corner stone of the new convent of the Sisters of the Good Shephred, an institution for mag dalens, was laid in this city to-day with appropriate ceremonies.

The Turf at Buffalo.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BUFFALO, August 7.—Sixty-three entries were made to-night for trots over the Buffalo Driving Park next week and more are expected by to-morrow's mail. The entries for the $10,000 purse are Lucy, American Girl, George Palmer and Goldsmith's Maid. The entries for the 2:26 trot for a purse of $5,000 are Clara, Angeline, Confidence, W. K. Thomas, Henry W. Genet, formerly Danver's Bay, and Billy Barr. Fourteen horses are entered for the $3,000 purse, for 2:29 horses, nine for the $2,000 purse, for 2:34 horses, and seven for $1,500 purse, for 2:40 horses.

Remarkable Weather for the Season.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LEWISTOWN, Me., August 7.—The weather is the coldest in this part of the State experienced at this season for many years, with a slight frost on low lands.

CONCORD, N. H., August 7.—There was a slight fall of snow yesterday on Mount Washington and ice formed during the night.

MONTREAL, August 7.—Snow fell yesterday in the country fifteen miles back of the city.

—At Shakopee, Minnesota, two girls of the ages of fifteen and sixteen, daughters of a Swede named Anderson, each gave birth to an illegitimate child within a day or two of each other. Both retired a short distance from their house when the births took place and each one at the time took her babe and threw it in the Minnesota river. The body of one child was found. One of the girls is said to have confessed that before throwing her child into the water she strangled it to death. Both girls are under arrest.

THE CONDITIONS OF HEALTH.

It is idle to expect health if the precautions necessary to secure it are neglected. The human organization is a delicate piece of mechanism, and requires as much intelligent care and watchfulness to keep it in order, as are requisite in the management of the most complicated combination of levers, Wheels and pinions.

At this season of the year the body is peculiarly sensitive, because it is greatly weakened and relaxed by the continuous heat. The skin, in summer, with its millions of pores wide open, is a very different sort of tegument from the compact fibrous covering which it becomes under the action of the winter's cold. The muscles, too, are comparatively flaccid the nerves tremulous, the blood poor, and the whole frame less capable of enduring fatigue and resisting disease. These indications of a depressed condition of the vital forces are so many unmistakable hints that nature needs reinforcing.

Ordinary stimulants will not effect this object. They inflame and excite, but do not strengthen. The only preparation which can be depended upon to impart staminal vigor to the system, and enable it to endure the ordeal of the heated term without giving way under the pressure, is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a tonic and corrective so pure, so harmless, so utterly free from the drawbacks which render many of the powerful astringents employed in medical practice more dangerous than the ailments they are employed to cure, that it may be administered without fear to the feeblest female invalid, or the most delicate child. The cathartic and alterative vegetable ingredients, which are combined with those of a tonic nature in its composition, keep the bowels moderately free and perfectly regular, while the work of invigoration is going on. The finest blood depurents which the herbal kingdom affords are also among its components, so that it recruits, purifies and regulates the system simultaneously.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, Augus 7, 1869.

The past week was one of unusual dullness in financial matters. Government bonds have not advanced as much as was expected, from large purchases by the government, and quotations from Europe are not favorable to any material advance. The scarcity of bonds in the market keeps up the price of 5-20s more than any investment demand by the people.

Currency Pacific bonds are steady, but certainly are not a very profitable investment, at about 112, not quite yielding five per cent., when good municipal bonds and first-class mortgages will bring from 8 to 10 per cent.

Gold was very dull during the week, but the unfavorable bank statement and higher rates of exchange give the market a firmer appearance. A rise in stocks, which is expected during next week will, most likely have the effect of advancing quotations.

Money in better request without any advance in rates.

Business more lively.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, August 7, 1869.

The general markets have not be very active during the past wee though trade is always dull at this s son of the year. The demand for almo everything is restricted mainly to su plying immediate wants, and with light volume of business in the agg gate, there has been no import changes in values. With the cro pretty well secured, and continued go weather, the apprehensions which p vailed some two weeks since in con quence of the excessive rains, have pr ty well subsided, and it is now general conceded there will be a full avera yield of all kinds of grain, and as the will be a large surplus, it is to be hop there will be a good export demand, a of this there is a very good prospect present.

Flour is firm, and while Spring Whe brands are higher Winter Wheats r main unchanged, and as might be e pected, the demand for the former, the advance, has diminished material while, as a natural consequence, the d mand for the latter has very naturally i creased. It was its cheapness that ga spring wheat flours such a strong foot in this market within the past year two; whenever it rises above wint wheat, however, it is done, as cons mers, generally with the exception bakers, will always give the latter t preference, even at the same price.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

Gov. Geary and the Veto Power.

A Harrisburg paper says: It appears the offical records just issued that the to power has been excercised by Gov. nor Geary sixty times since January 1, 69. Of the bills thus defeated forty ginated in the House and twenty in the nate, and a number yet remain to be ed upon. Twenty-six were discarded cause the Courts had jurisdiction, or cause they covered such matters of cial legislation as were inadmisiable. ve were rejected on constitutional ounds, among these being the one thorizing the Governor to commute e death penalty. This bill would have ven the Executive the power of setting ide the solumn verdict of any jury in e State, in criminal cases. No bill beme a law over the veto.

The power exercised by the Governor t only defeated the particular bills, but evented hundreds of a simlar charac- from being passed. The resolution in Republican platform, endorsing the overnor for restraining the evils of spel legislation, was based upon these ve s. Among other reasons given for t approving a certain supplement, the overnor declared that the original bill which the supplement was desired) d never become a law, and on inquiry e Legislature found this to be the case. nother bill was vetoed because by the sertion of three words a private corpora- n would have obtained the power to es- blish an immense police system over the tire State. An insurance company had en granted a charter by the Legislature do business with a millions of dollars pital, when but five hundred dollars d been paid in. This charter was re- cted. Another bill was so carefully awn as to be without meaning, and ll another (passed by the Legislature) oposed to authorize a company to construct and use such works and im- ovements as might be necessary and pedient by them." This enormous ant was properly refused. The charac- of the vetoes makes it apparent that, far as the Legislature was concerned, lls were passed without any sort of in- tigation.

n this connection, the Harrisburg legraph makes the following points:

First—That Governor Geary has vetoed ore bills passed by the Legislaiure than y of his predecessors, and that he is the ly Governor who had the nerve to veto lls passed in the interest of "Mammoth orporations."

Second—The Paster and Folder Job was ver presented to him in any shape.

Third—The Herdic Bill was passed by e Democratic members in the Legisla- re, and received almost the unanimous nction of both parties. By his signa- ture to that bill, had the Supreme Court t decided otherwise, the State would ve saved some six thousand dollars, and e people have been relieved of an incom- tent partisan judge.

Fourth—The Boiler bill never passed ther of the Houses of the Legislature, d it was well known here that if it had en presented to Gov. Geary he would ave vetoed it.

Fifth—All the passenger railroad bills gned were demanded by the people.

Sixth—The cattle bill was not passed, d hence Gov. Geary had no opportunity act upon it.

Seventh—No petroleum and anthracite vindle bills were presented; it was there- re out of the question to veto them.

Democratic Election Frauds.

A fresh illustration of Democratic hon- ty in conducing elections was brought light on Monday last, in the course of e investigation of the alleged frauds at e general election in Philadelphia last ll. At the poll for the sixteeeth division the Twentieth ward, the return made y the election officers for Mayor was as llows:

ox (Dem.).....310 | Tyndale (Rep.)..249

Upon opening the ballot-box this week, nd recounting the tickets in the presence counsel for both parties, the actual ote was found to be:

ox (Dem.).....273 | Tyndale (Rep.)..279

Thus it was proved that in a precinct here the Republican candidate had an ctual majority of six votes, the honest ection officers of the party which the ntelligencer says would scorn to cheat at lections, returned sixty-one majority for he Democratic candidate; in other words, he Republicans were cheated out of sixty- even votes at that single poll. This is nly one instance. In several other pre- ncts in Philadelphia, as we have here- fore demonstrated beyond all ques- on, still more extensive and laring frauds were perpetrated at he Presidential election, by which ore than one thousand notoriously audulent votes were returned for the Democratic electors in three precincts of single ward. No wonder that a party apable of such rascality, whose presses nd leading men have never uttered a ord in condemnation of it, and who now they can only expect to achieve olitical success by similar frauds here- fter, is bitterly opposed to the present egistry law, and to all laws having the bject and effect of preventing or materi- lly diminishing cheating in elections.—Lancaster Evening Express.

Political Items.

Will Mr. C. L. Pershing, if elected, reign his position as local attorney for the Pennsylvania Central Railroad? We ask his little question as the Democracy were greatly troubled lest General Crant, if elected, should not resign his commission n the army.

Our Pennsylvania Democracy is spok- of very disrespectfully by the New ork Citizen, a Democratic journal. 'The platform," says the Citizen, "is itterly bad, without the first sign of rue loyalty or the least evidence of a levation to the best interests of the whole country." The Citizen cannot, nder these circumstances, "expect or wish that the Democrats should carry Pennsylvania," and gives its reasons:

We do not wish this simply because it would be a triumph of the Vallandingams, and the Pendletons, and the old school that never learns and never forgets; the former power toadies, who imagined that the slavery was a thing of beauty and a joy for ever instead of being at best but a cruel necessity of the Constitution. A triumph on such principlas and with such candidates would only revive the dead men of the North and South, the putrescent bodies which have been smothered under the loyalty of the nation; the malignant rebels, whether they register themselves as enemies of the nation in Cincinnati, Harrisburg, or New Orleans. A victory now would bring the extremists back to life and power, and with them another defeat in 1872.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—Heavy and continuous rains are working injury to the crops in the vicinity of Augusta, Georgia.

—Thomas Farrell, a fireman on the steamer Kate Putnam, of Pittsburgh, was drowned at St. Louis, Thursday night.

—The report forwarded in reference to Jay Cooke & Co. having advanced money on whisky destroyed by the fire in Philadelphia is positively denied by that firm.

—A barber named William Schupkegel, living in Mascontah, Illinois, was brutally murdered in a saloon, on Wednesday afternoon, by Henry Galth, a butcher.

—Steamboats left Denver on Wednesday to join the Vice President's party. Previous to leaving he was presented with a pitcher made out of Colorado silver and gold.

—John Roberts, charged with having robbed the United States Express near Quincy, Illinois, about six months ago, was arrested at St. Louis yesterday and taken to Springfield.

—The store of Samuel C. Anderson, at Reeds Ferry, N. H., was entered Thursday night, the safe moved thirty feet, dumped into a cellar, blown open and robbed of $1,200; $3,500 in government bonds were left.

—Efforts are being made to organize a People's party in San Francisco to nominate a ticket for city and county offices. Reform is demanded and it is deemed necessary to take the offices of the city out of the hands of the politicians.

—John H. Pratt, ringleader of the Jefferson, Texas, riots, was arrested in New York, on Thursday, by a detective from the headquarters of General Reynolds, who has been on his track since April last. He was commited to the Ludlow street jail.

—A Moses Maybaum, a Jewish dry goods dealer, has absconded from Newark, N. J., leaving liabilities to the amount of $40,000. It is reported he has gone to Chicago. His store was seized by the Sheriff, but some of his creditors had previously secured a large portion of the stock.

—Arizona advices state that since the first of January, in Prime county alone, sixteen hundred and ninety cattle have been stolen by Indians. During the same time, out of a population of seven hundred and eighty whites, the savages have murdered fifty-two, wounded eighteen and carried two into captivity.

—A young man by the name of Delany, who went to Chicago for the purpose of taking holy orders in the Catholic Church, was drowned in the lake Thursday night, by the capsizing of a boat in which he was taking a sail. A companion of his, who went to Chicago for the same purpose, was saved.

—Geo. B. and James Addison surrendered themselves to the authorities at Augusta, Ga., for the shooting of Charles and J. T. Cresswell, in Edgfield, on Monday. Charles Cresswell is dead. J. T. Cresswell, who is charged with having criminal intercourse with a sister of Addison, is dangerously but not mortally wounded.

—A report has been received from Edgefield, South Carolina, that Charles and J. D. Cresswell, who left it was supposed to engage in a duel, met near Edgfield, and fought with pistols. The former was instantly killed, and the latter is seriously, if not mortally, wounded. The affair was of an entirely private nature, and is alleged to have grown out of family troubles.

—A Santa Fe dispatch says: A party of miners were attacked by Indians near Sulphur Springs, and their wagons and supplies fell into their hands. A party of miners on an inspecting tour to San Juan county were allowed to pass through the country by the Utah Indians, but they were positively prohibited from locating claims. Large numbers of cattle and sheep have been driven off by the Indians in Arribo county, —Late Havana letters give, from a Spanish standpoint, the rebel assault on Puerto Principe and the repulse. At latest mail advices the ill fortune of the insurgents continued, the forces of Jordan, Marmal, Marcano, and Figueredo having attacked simultaneously the Spanish detachments on the estates La Cruz, Santo Silto, San Jose and Santa Isabel, as also those of the Palma Soriano village, and having been driven back at all points.

—Wm. K. Lampshear, stencil cutter, residing in Cleveland, Ohio, suspecting undue intimacy between one of his employes, named George Stanley, and his wife, who boarded at the same house, went to work early Friday morning, and returning, found Stanley in bed with his wife. He attacked both with a knife, inflicting a wound in his wife's abdomen which will probably prove fatal, and severely wounding Stanley in the shoulder. Lampshear was arrested.

THE World affects great horror of the "extortion," "plunder" &c., &c. of the wealthy monopolists who control the Coal market; but this is all sham. The "head center" of these smart fellows is Mr. Asa Packer of Carbondale, Pa. He has made some Twenty Millions of Dollars in buying and selling coal-mines, constructing and operating coal canals, railroads, &c., and is in a fair way to make a great deal more. No one else has ever made half so much money out of coal-consumers as he has. We do not assail him for this—he has a genius for money-making, and Coal is his profit. New York Tribune.

AT Brocton Station, N. Y., on the Lake Shore railroad, the people were astonished on Tuesday night to see the 7:40 oil train coming in at tremendous speed, all on fire. It was stopped beyond the station, and in a few moments six cars were all in a blaze, and the tanks which were filled with oil exploded, sending the contents in all directions. The telegraph poles, water tank, wood sleepers, ruins of the cars, and every thing else within reach, went to feed the flames. The fire was first discovered near the middle of the train, some seven miles from Brocton Junction.

WINE in the wine-growing regions of California is cheaper than milk. In Anaheim and Los Angelos common wine is but thirty cents a gallon; milk costs fifty. Even a common strong wine is but forty cents. In Tuolumne county a large skilled wine-raiser offers tour thousand five hundred gallons of excellent wine at twenty-five cents per gallon. In the same region milk is forty cents. In Coloma the price of the two is the same—forty cents. In Sonoma good wine is for sale at forty cents the gallon, and milk at the same price.

LAWLESSNESS in Madison county, South Carolina, in the shape of whipping, and even murdering, inoffensive citizens, has become so marked that Governor Smith has issued a proclamation directing the Sheriff to call upon the militia and enforce the law at whatever cost.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the livor and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Liver Compiaint is one of the most prominent causes of Consumption.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much: they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secret ons, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and tzey will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the ungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 325 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's Preparations with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Allegheny Councils will meet next Thursday evening.

Obituary.—Dr. R. S. Bunn, a much esteemed citizen of Ebensburg, Pa., died last week.

The Allegheny lock-up contained ten inmates yesterday morning, all the effects of whiskey.

The Grand Army of the Republic, of this State, expended five thousand dollars in charity last year and has ten thousand yet in the treasury.

Sad Accident.—A little daughter of David Powell of Ebensburg, had her right leg cut off last week by being caught in a mowing machine.

Firemen's Association.—A regular meeting of the Firemen's Association will be held this evening at seven and a half o'clock, at the r hall, city buildings.

Incorrigible.—On Saturday afternoon Mayor Brush committed a girl about fifteen years of age to the House of Refuge, at the request of her parents, who said she had become incorrigible.

Celebration.—The anniversary of the Orphans' Home, at Womelsdorf, Berks county, was celebrated on Wednesday, when an address was delivered by Rev. Dr. Passavent, of Pittsburgh. The Home contains now about one hundred scholars, of whom eighty are soldiers orphans.

Precarious.—The man Hadfield, who was so seriously burned at the Fort Pitt Works, Thursday evening, was lying at his residence in Allegheny last evening in a critical condition. He was very flighty and seemed to be suffering intense pain. The physicians in attendance have no hope of his recovery.

A Novel Idea.—A very remarkable document is about being issued in pamphlet form, the idea of which is that a day shall be set apart by Christians when prayer shall be offered that a certain day and hour the Lord will set a sign in the heavens whereby infidels may know the Bible is the Word of God.

Workmen's Quarrel.—"Assault and battery" was the charge made before Alderman Bolster, on Saturday, by Lambert Schugart against Henry Fisher. The parties are engaged in a shop in the Third Ward, Allegheny, and had some difficulty in regard to a piece of workmanship, resulting as stated. The pugilistic Henry was arrested and will have a hearing to-day.

Narrow Escape.—Saturday morning a young woman residing on Center avenue, while engaged about the oven, accidentally set fire to her clothing, and narrowly escaped being burned to death. She was saved through the presence of mind of a member of the family who happened to be present, and succeeded in smothering the flames by wrapping a piece of carpet about her.

Fight in a Saloon.—Saturday afternoon, shortly after the race, a row occurred in Schaffer's beer saloon, corner of Washington and Denman streets, East Birmingham. One of the parties engaged in the melee was badly beaten, and had to be taken away in a carriage. The affair created considerable excitement in the vicinity, which rendered it impossible to ascertain the name of the unfortunate man or the origin of the fight.

Terrible.—Anthony O'Donnell, a coal miner, was killed in a terrible manner in the Cambria Iron Company mines last week. While coming out of the mines from work he was caught between one of the oar cars and the side of the drift. At the time of the accident he had several picks on his shoulders, the points of which were driven into his back until stopped by the handles. He lingered in great agony for about five hours, when he died.

The Penn Street Burglary.—The burglary at Mr. W. R. Brown's residence, No. 103 Penn street, on Friday night, it now seems was committed by boys. The young rogues entered the cellar of an adjoining house and purloined a bottle of wine, after which they climbed over the fence into Mr. Brown's yard. They gained entrance into the house by prying open a window shutter with a chisel. It is not known whether anything of value was taken. The boys first tramped through a pile of lime and then climbed over the fence leaving footprints upon the top of the boards, from which the police judged the size and character of the depredators. There is no clue further than this.

The Commencement Exercises of Washington and Jefferson College were concluded on Friday last, and in every view were of an exceedingly interesting character. The occasion drew a large number of visitors from all parts of the country, and at the palatial residence of Washington's most enterprising of citizens, Mr. William Smith, a grand social union of these and others was held on Friday night, at which no less than three hundred couple were in attendance. The assemblage was exceedingly brilliant and fashionable, and conspicuous for learning and refinement. After a promenade and socia converse the entire party were seated at a sumptuous supper where the boards groaned beneath the weight of the toothsome things set upon them. Mr. Smith's generous hospitality and public spirit will long be remembered by his guests and his fellow citizens of Washington, by whom he is universally respected for his many good qualities of head and heart.

Could'nt See It.

On Saturday afternoon an official gentleman connected with our municipal government, and a friend, were straining their eyes through a piece of colored glass at the eclipse, when a mutual acquaintance approached and offered an article "smoked expressly for the occasion." The official accepted the offer, and placing the smoked apparatus to his eye gazed earnestly for about five minutes, when he handed it to his friend, with the remark that he "could'nt see it." The friend tried and made a careful survey, which resulted similarly. Several bystanders had collected by this time and the smoked article was passed around, but nobody saw the eclipse with its aid. Finally it was suggested that a part of the smoke be rubbed off, which was done, when, lo! the supposed glass proved to be a piece of sheet iron, which had been prepared for "the occasion" by the practical joker. The party acknowledged themselves sold and "smiled."

AQUATIC.

The Latest Fiasco—Another Foul of Large Dimensions—Bets Declared Off —A New Race Proposed.

From five to ten thousand men, women and children found conveyance in a multitude of ways to the point on the Monongahela river designated for the aquatic race between Jimmy Hamill and Harry Coulter on Saturday afternoon. The banks of the river, from which a good view of the race might have been obtained, were lined with people of all ages, sexes, colors and classes, while the bosom of the stream was almost completely hidden in the shadows of the steamboats, tug boats, ferry boats, skiffs, yawls, sculls, barges and mud boats, which sat gracefully on the water and weighed down with anxious human beings. Never before in Pittsburgh had there been such universal interest centered in a similar sporting occasion, and the generous outpouring of the people strengthened the hope that an aquatic revival had set in, and that the spirit which contributed so much in days of yore to the enjoyment of boat races had been resurrected. Never before was there such bright opportunity afforded the contestants to elevate the sport with a fair and dignified exhibition of their rowing capacities, and never before was a golden chance permitted to not only escape unimproved, but to sink rowing and rowers into deeper odium and contempt. It is useless here to sermonize. The many thousands of people who happened to have a little business to transact up the Monongahela river just at the time of the race—for, like the old flying man affair, none can be found willing to admit going from home to be sold—have formed their own opinions on the subject, and inwardly resolved to turn a cold shoulder on boating in the future.

THE DAY AND THE MEN.

The day was all that could be desired. A bright sky overhead and a smooth, beautiful water, undisturbed by a single ripple. It was just such a day as rowers would desire for a fair race, and admirably filled the bill of requirements in the articles of agreement.

The men were both in excellent condition. They had been trained thoroughly and their appearances betokened that both were in splendid trim for the contest, neither one appearing to have any advantage, in this respect, over the other. Had they rowed over the course, we dare say the race would have been the closest and prettiest ever witnessed on the Monongahela.

MAKING READY.

At precisely four o'clock the men both put in an appearance in their frail little boats, and rowed around among the various barges and boats receiving the congratulations, well wishes and cheers of their friends. In a few moments later the judges and referee appeared at the starting place in their boat and all things were in readiness for

THE START.

The men were got abreast of each other in their boats and pioneers were sent forward to clear the course, after which the signal was given and both darted out, Coulter shooting ahead, having dipped his oars a moment prematurely. The Referee called them back for a fresh start. After a moment's delay, the word "go" was again given and both boats started, Coulter getting the lead. When they had progressed about one hundred and twenty yards Coulter, whether purposely or not, is only known to himself, brought his boat directly athwart of Hamill's, and a tangling of oars took place. Hamill's boat rocked violently, and before he had it righted Coulter was ten yards in the advance. Hamill then threw up his oar and claimed a foul, and leisurely rowed to his boat house. Coulter went over the course, being cheered by some of his friends, but jeered, hooted and hissed at by a large majority of the disappointed spectators.

THE BETS,

Much sympathy was manifested for Hamill, who nearly everybody regarded as blameless in the matter, and many claimed for him the stakes, charging Coulter with having deliberately fouled him. Considerable excitement was experienced by those having money up on the race, not knowing how the referee, Mr. John M. King, might have viewed thei matter. That gentleman announced that he would deliver his decision at seven o'clock in the evening, at the counting room of the Dispatch.

At the appointed hour a large crowd assembled on Fifth avenue to await the announcement of the decision of the referee. Most of those in waiting were of the betters, and of course anxious to learn how their chances stood. There were few persons outside of those thus pecuniarily interested who bothered themselves about the matter after supper, on account of the disgust felt at the fizzle. Mr. King, the referee, arrived at the Dispatch office about half past seven o'clock and found the judges and others interested awaiting him. He seemed to be a man of few words, for he at once announced that he decided the race a draw and all bets were therefore to be considered "off."

NEW RACE PROPOSED.

Mr. Elliott, for Hamill, said that if that was the decision it was not worth while to discuss the matter.

Mr. King answered that that was his final decision.

Mr. Musgrave for Coulter—We now offer to double the stakes and to row on Monday or next Saturday.

Mr. Elliott—I want to have a test of the merits and skill of these men, and as they have had several unsatisfactory trials, I now propose that the stakes be doubled and that they each pull the five miles on time, Mr. King to be timekeeper. Mr. Elliott also proposed to make the stakes $5,000 and pull this way, and suggested that the referee's boat be pulled between them through the race.

Mr. Musgrave stated that a race was desired and he would speak for Coulter's backers, that they will double the stakes and row the race on Monday.

So the matter rests. It will be a very hard matter on the part of the city Press to again work up such a great interest in another race, as the people have swallowed too much of a dose in Saturdays' fiasco to again be caught by a future occasion.

Irving Institute.

In calling the attention to this seminary for young ladies, it is perhaps unecessary to inform our readers that it is one of the best and most successful private schools in the city. Its patrons are among its very best families, and the number of students being limited, the school is strictly select and of a high order, free from the objections often urged against large and promiscuous schools. Besides, the Principal being a thorough practical teacher, of long experience, posessed of unusual tact in the management of girls, has given the school an excellent reputation among those interesed in the thorough and careful educaton of their daughters. For particulars, see advertisement in another column.

Resolutions of the Grand Army of the Republic.

We have just received the report of the proceedings of the late conclave of the Pennsylvania Department of the Grand Army of the Republic, held at Altoona. The following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, We the comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Pennsylvania, in convention assembled, reiterating the sentiments expressed by us on former occasions, that we disclaim the character of a partizan organization, or that we have in view any other object than that of mutual assistance and self protection, to revive and strengthen old friendship formed in the field, and form new and intimate relations with others who united in the suppression of the rebellion, and to render proper aid and support to those left destitute by our fallen comrades in arms;

Resolved, That we hold it to be the part of wisdom and duty, justice and right, religion and truth, in the Federal Government to bestow its patronage upon those who periled their lives, sacrificed their fortunes, and ruined their health that the country might live.

Resolved, That we most emphatically disapprove of the manner in which the claims of the soldier have been ignored by those who control the national appointment in Pennsylvania.

Resolved, That empty pledges and promises unfulfilled, are but mockery in answer to the wounded man's appeal, and cannot fail to act on those responsible: and that we call upon those in power to redeem the solemn and oft-repeated pledges made to soldiers and sailors during the dark and terrible days of the rebellion.

Resolved, That in view of the fact that artificial limbs under ordinary circumstances do not last longer than three years, this Convention heartily endorses the proposed action of Congress making an appropriation for an additional artificial limb for those honorably discharged soldiers and sailors who may make application for the same, and that the Congressional Committee to whom the matter was referred be requested to further the project.

Mr. Maken's Eccentricities.

James Maken resides in Manchester, or the Sixth ward, Allegheny. James was at the boat race Saturday and returned home, in common with everybody, disgusted with the fizzle. On the way home so great was his chagrin that he felt compelled to stop at a saloon and take something to calm his nerves. His nerves were very much out of order and he had to stop several times before he reached his residence. As a consequence he was full of the boat race and the nerve calmers. While sitting by his fireside a brilliant idea struck him. He would have a race of his own. Acting on this happy thought he gleefully caught up the fire shovel, and in a facetious manner suggested to his wife, "a-(hic)-'wasthic)," at the same time causing the shovel to describe a semi-circle in close proximity to her head. She understood his meaning and "awasted," and his race began. Playfully he followed her from room to room of the house, up stairs, down stairs, out into the yard, and finally into the street, when he was prevented from following her further. Returning to the house, he brooded over his wife's unthoughtfulness in thus depriving him of his entertainment, and wrathfully concluded to close the doors upon her forever—a decision which he announced to the object of his wrath from an up stairs window. She lingered around for several hours, but finding him still obdurate, sought shelter at the house of a friend. Yesterday she made a call at the Mayor's office, which resulted in an official visit to the Maken dwelling. Mr. Maken was found inside and persuaded to exchange his room for a cell in the lock up, where he remained until released last evening upon giving security for his future good behavior.

Local Inspectors' Report.

In the United States District Court, on Saturday morning, Judge McCandless on the bench, the Quarterly Report of the Board of Local Inspectors of this port was presented as follows:

Hon. Wilson McCandless, Judge of the United States District Court, Sir: We have the honor to present our official report for the quarter ending June 30th, 1869. During the quarter we have inspected eleven passenger steamers, sixteen towing boats, three freight boats, two ferry boats, and one United States survey boat, making a total of thirty-three, having a total tonnage of 8,034 tons. We have issued licences to sixty-eight engineers, and seventy-five pilots. We have examined the condition of a number of steamers and steam boilers. We have ruled out of passenger service the "Grey Eagle" on account of her condition and unfitness as a passenger steamer.

Repairs were ordered on sevral steamers and on a large number of boilers. We are pleased to say they were attended to promptly. The boating business in the aggregate has been large, and the quantity of coal shipped, our great staple, has been unusually large. The number of new steamers built and being construct, ed for the Missouri, Mississippi, Ohio and Southern waters has kept our builders quite busy up to the present time. No accident of any consequence has happened to any vessel in this district during the quarter, which fact can be attributed to the efficiency and carefulness of the officers and owners of steamers. All of which is respectfully submitted.

GGORGE H. ATKINSON,
SAMUEL WALKER,
United States Local Inspectors.

Mayor's Morning Court.

The Mayor's Morning Court yesterday presented an array of forty visitors, thirty-nine men and one "lone woman," most of whom had looked "upon the wine" or some other fluid the evening before. It was their misfortune to be misrepresented. Not one of them had been arrested for cause. According to their statements, they were the victims of official interference and should at once be released. They were released in an official way, that is those who provided funds sufficient to liquidate the fines imposed were set at liberty, and the others failing in this respect were granted tickets of admission to the mansion on the hill.

The Eclipse of the Sun.

On Saturday, was as favorable an exhibition of the character as any could have desired. The afternoon was bright and beautiful, with a few straggling white zephyr clouds floating across the heavens. As the moment approached for the apparent climbing of the sun by the moon, the former body seemed to have wandered to a clear space where hardly a cloud was visible, and the exhibition commenced above an audience of many thousands, who were intently looking heavenward through smoked glasses to see all that was to be seen. Prompt to the nicety of a second the moon made her appearance and commenced to disfigure the face of the sun, proceeding slowly and surely in the performance. The dark shadow became greater and greater till the majestic sun was almost hidden entirely from view, a slim crescent alone remaining to tell of his existence. The light gradually grew dim as the eclipse progressed, and when it was at its full height the earth was flooded with those rich but subdued tinted rays so often observed in the twilight of Indian summer. Altogether the exhibition was highly creditable and enjoyable, and Pittsburgh has no reason to complain of the part of the programme her citizens were permitted to enjoy. No observations were made at the Allegheny observatory inasmuch as all the scientific gentlemen of the Western University faculty had departed for points where a better view and more valuable notes could be secured.

An Unfortunate Nap.

Milton Bandell, a resident of McKeesport, visited the city on Saturday to see the boat race. For this purpose he took up a commanding position on the south bank of the Monongahela, near Haberman's coal tipple. The monotony of the preparations, which commenced long before the rowmen made their appearance on the water, had a drowsy influence upon him, and with the green grass for a mattrass, a soft rock for a pillow, the blue sky as a covering, and the great eclipse doing its level best to change day into night, he calmly settled himself to rest and soon was in the land of dreams. Morpheus favored his repose. He dreamed sweetly, snored subduedly and awoke to realize the absence from his garments of a silver watch valued at $50, a gold chain, a pocket knife and his purse containing a small sum of money. He sought in vain among the crowd for the kind-hearted friend who had so thoughtfully taken charge of his property, but the friend could not be found. He gave it up with a changed feeling in regard to boat racing, eclipses, or dozes on the sunny banks of meandering streams, and profanely pronounces them, one and all, a swindle.

Open Air Exercise.

Everybody should have some open air exercise. Nothing will make up for a loss in this respect. The managers of the Work House understand this principle of health, and have therefore considerately made arrangements for the visitors who called upon them Saturday with the intention of rusticating for a fortnight or so. As most of the visitors are of the male order, shovels, picks, spades, and similar implements have been provided as the most suitable, and to-day they will take their first exercise in the open air. For the purpose of making their exercise one of utility as well as health, it has been arranged to employ them at leveling off a portion of the grounds so as to have all the enclosure within the walls of a proper grade. Should the weather prove favorable, their exercise will be rendered doubly pleasant by balmy zephyrs, the sweet warblings of birds and the general beauties of nature, for which their visiting place is remarkable.

Supposed Incendiarism.

Yesterday morning about ten o'clock some of the neighbors discovered smoke issuing from the windows of a large three story brick building on Vine street, off Pennsylvania avenue. The house has been unoccupied since the 1st of April last, and the circumstance created some surprise. The doors were quickly broken open, when a fire was discovered in one of the lower rooms, built in the centre of the floor, apparently with the intention of destroying the building. A small hole had been burned through the floor, and the flames were spreading when they were so opportunely discovered and put out with a few buckets of water. The engines of the district were called out by an alarm from box 53, but their services were not required. The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary, but who the guilty party is has not been ascertained.

Died From His Injuries.

We mentioned a few days ago that John Whitely, employed at the Work House, had fallen from a scaffolding. The unfortunate man lingered until Saturday evening, when death put an end to his suffering. Alderman Donaldson, in the absence of Coroner Clawson, held an inquest on the body yesterday morning, at which it was ascertained that the deceased had been removing a scaffolding ot the time of the accident, when his foot slipped, causing him to fall a distance of sixty feet to the ground below. No bones were broken, his injuries being internal. He was a native of England, about twenty-two years of age, and had been in this country but about two weeks.

Left Him.

A stranger, we are glad to say he is a stranger, in our city, who has been stopping for the last few weeks at a boarding house on Wylie street, amused his leisure hours by whipping his wife. He generally found leisure for the entertainment about three times a week, and the poor woman led a weary life of it. She ended the matter on Saturday after a severe castigation by packing up her traps, procuring a passage to Philadelphia, her former home and starting there without consulting the brute of a husband, who will be compelled to make other arrangements for the indulgence of his pugulistic propensities.

Youthful Depredators.

Sometime Saturday night, or early yesterday morning, the grocery store of A. G. Cubbage, located in the Diamond, was entered and releived of a portion of its contents consisting of two hundred cigars, a ten dollar bill, five hundred nickels, three dollars in three cent pieces, and five dollars in fractional currency. The thieves effected an entrance by raising a window in the rear of the store. It is certain they were boys as the window could not have been raised high enough to admit a mans' body going through. There is no clue to them, and they are likely to escape.

Charming "Lou," The City Belle.

Air—CAPTAIN JINKS.

Sweet Cynthia Ann is fair to view,
And so is gentle Dorothy Drew,
But they can't come up to charming Lou,
For she's the belle of the city.
She shows the ladies how to dress,
How to dress, how to dress,
She shows the ladies how to dress,
In a style that is most charming.

Spoken—Yes, ladies, she says that if you will only use Urben's Blooming Pearl, the great complexion beautifier of the age, you can make yourself look just as sweet as

Charming Lou, the city belle,
Whose many graces none may tell;
A handsome, dashing female swell,
The acknowleged belle of the city.

This charming girl is past her teens,
And not possessed of surplus means,
Yet, with the Pearl the fact she screens,
And reigns the belle of the city.
It frees the skin from tan and specs,
From tan and specs, from tan and specs,
It frees the skin from tan and specs,
And gives a fine complexion.

Spoken—Yes, ladies, for the small sum of fifty cents, for a bottle of Urben's Blooming Pearl, even if you are thirty, you can give yourself the appearance of eighteen, and look just as fresh and blooming as Charming Lou, &c., &c.

If you'll but use the Blooming Pearl,
Each spec and freckle it will pull,
And turn you out a handsome girl,
As any in the city.
Then the gentlemen will all cry out,
Will all cry out, will all cry out,
The gentlemen will all cry out,
Why she's the belle of the city.

Spoken—Yes, she is a charming creature! beautiful complexion, fine hair and young; egad, she's as handsome as Charming Lou, &c., &c.

The Blooming Pearl is for sale by all druggists at 50 cents per bottle. Beware of counterfeits and buy none that has not "Urben's Standard Preparation" blown in the glass.

GREAT LAND SLIDE.

Five Acres of Earth Carried Six Hundred Feet.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HUDSON, N. Y., August 7.—The town of Stockport, in this county, has been the scene of considerable excitement this week on account of a gigantic land slide, and thousands have visited the spot. The place where the phenomenon occurred is located on a post road near the confluence of Kinderhook and Claverack, about five miles north of the city. It comprises nearly five acres and was on an elevation above a dry ravine. A hill intervenes between this ravine and creek on the east and north, of a little less than the altitude of that which caved in. The crash took place about half-past six o'clock last Monday afternoon. The movement was gradual and the surface of the earth undulated like the waves of the ocean. No noise was heard until the moving mass struck the base of the intervening hill, when there was a dull, rumbling sound, resembling distant thunder, and a quivering sensation like the slight shock of an earthquake. The earth caved in to the distance of over eighty feet and the surface, as indicated by trees and fences, moved a distance of over six hundred feet. So gradual was the movement that it occupied about half an hour, and the sight is described by those who witnessed it as sublime in the extreme. Among the most marked incidents of the phenomenon is the fact that an oak tree, which stood by the roadside, was moved with a section of the fence to the bottom of the ravine, a distance of six hundred feet, and the tree and fence now stand as firm and upright as ever. The weaker trees, such as pine and hemlock, were snapped as pipe stems and some trees of this nature, two feet or more in diameter, were doubled and twisted like a wisp of straw. The land is clay, founded on quick sand, with a soil of surface of not more than two feet in thickness. It is understood the quick sand has been gradually washed away from beneath and passed off into the stream. The copious showers of last spring left the surface a mere shell, and the dry weather which followed caused this shell to crack and finally fall into the vacuum below. A crevice of several inches in width, five feet in length and deep beyond sounding, has appeared on the land adjoining the sunken portion on the south. Fears are entertained that this will soon fall.

POLITICAL.

Gen. Rosecrans Declines the Democratic Nomination for Governor of Ohio.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, August 7.—General Rosecrans has declined the nomination for Governor of Ohio. He telegraphed Hon. A. G. Thurman, for the Democratic Committee, as follows: "After the war I resigned a very desirable position in the army, and left my State to secure at least the possibility of fulfilling duties deemed sacred to my creditors and family. These duties forbid me the honor of leading the Democracy of Ohio in the pending canvass for Governor."

COLUMBUS, O., August 8.—Judge Thurman has just received a dispatch from General Rosecrans. It shows that Rosecrans does not consider himself a citizen of Ohio, and will compel the assembling of another State Convention, as the State Central Committee will hardly take the responsibility of making a new nomination. The State Central Committee will meet here on Wednesday next to take action in the premises.

Tennessee Election.

NASHVILLE, August 7.—Additional returns indicate that Senter's majority may reach 65.000. But few counties give a majority for Stokes. As far as heard from, the State Senate stands Conservative 16, a majority of Conservative Republicans of 4, with five districts to hear from; the House, Republican Conservative 46, majority of Conservative Republicans 4.

The State Journal, the organ of Stokes, suspended to-day. The editors return to East Tennessee, and will continue the Union Flag newspaper at Jonesboro'. Its chief editor, Col. Grisham, made troops of friends in Nashville, and his departure will be much regretted.

MEMPHIS, August 7.—The following is the official vote of Shelby county: Senter, 7,304; Stokes, 3,362; for Superintendent of Public Instruction, Tifton, 6,734; McDowell, 3,359; which is the largest vote polled since the war.

The Avalanche claims a victory for universal suffrage. The Appeal and Ledger claim that it was for a white man's government and general reformation.

—Three men, named Hargrave, Bland and Laster have been arrested at Augusta, Ga., charged with robbing the Southern Express Company of five thousand dollars on the Central railroad.

Dear father, ere we part,
Now let thy grace descend,
And fill each youthful heart
With peace from Christ, our friend.
May showers of blessings from above
Descend and fill our hearts with love.

May we in after years,
With gratitude review
The service of this day,
The work we now pursue,
And speed on way to worlds above
With hearts all filled with holy love.

Dearest father, thou hast left us,
Here thy loss we deeply feel;
But 't is God that has bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.
